INDIVIDUALITY

As distinct entities, we unite to relate to and learn from the growing experience.
Accepting each other and sharing our individual traits with one another will help us grow into independent people.
In listening to this world around us,
we have found ourselves.

Interaction	14
Decisions	92
Confrontation	126
Individuality	180
Transition	226

INTERACTION

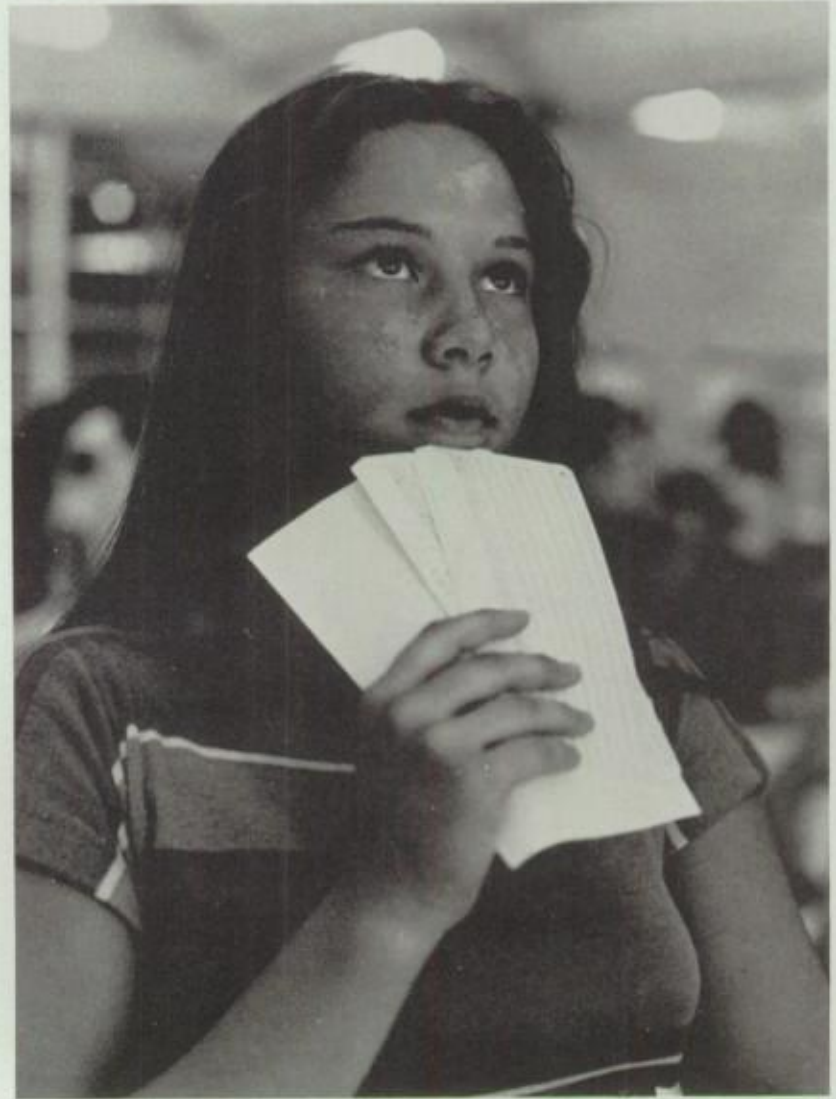

Joining as groups of people and participating in common causes.

Activities bring us closer, create enjoyment, provoke involvement, and teach cooperation.

We serve and are rewarded by the experience of serving.

We work together and apart to give of ourselves.

DECISIONS

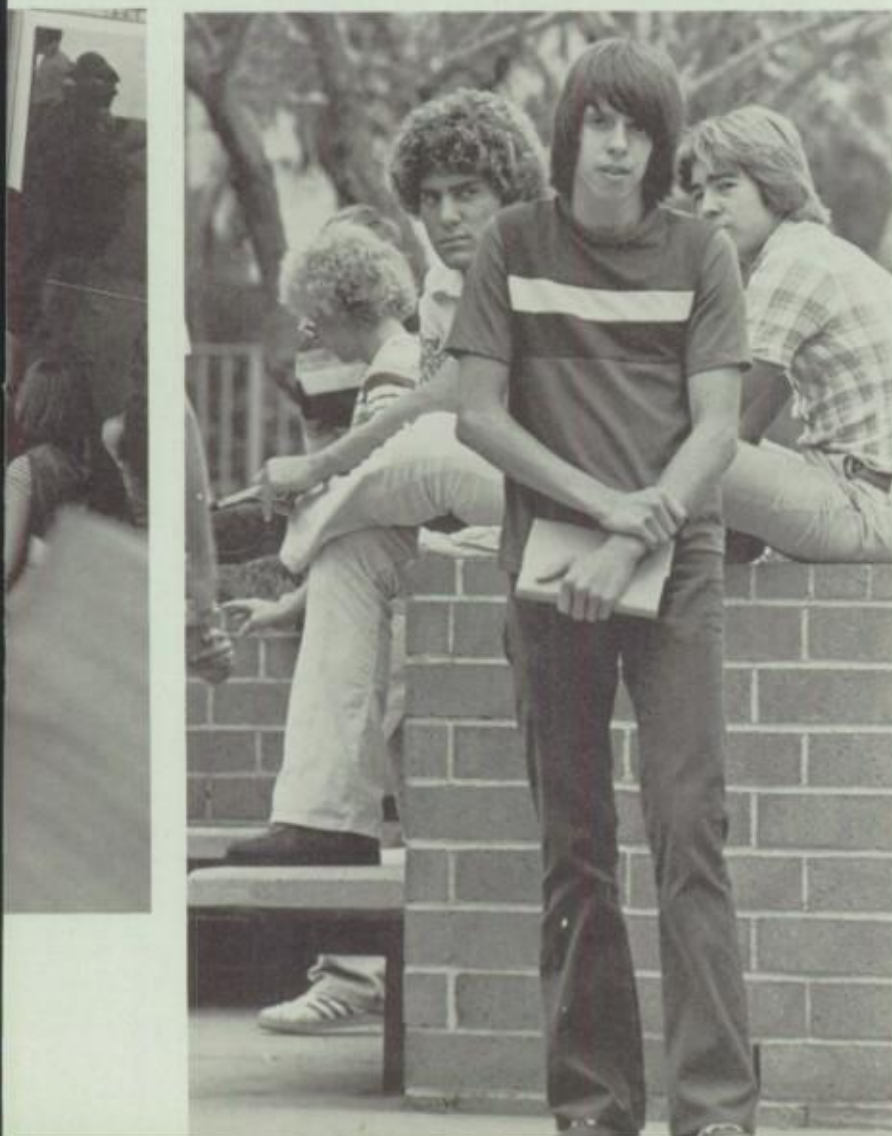

Indulge in education. Upon learning something, apply it to many things.

We choose what will be our course of study and how well we will follow it.

There are people to guide and instruct us.

We must decide how to use knowledge.

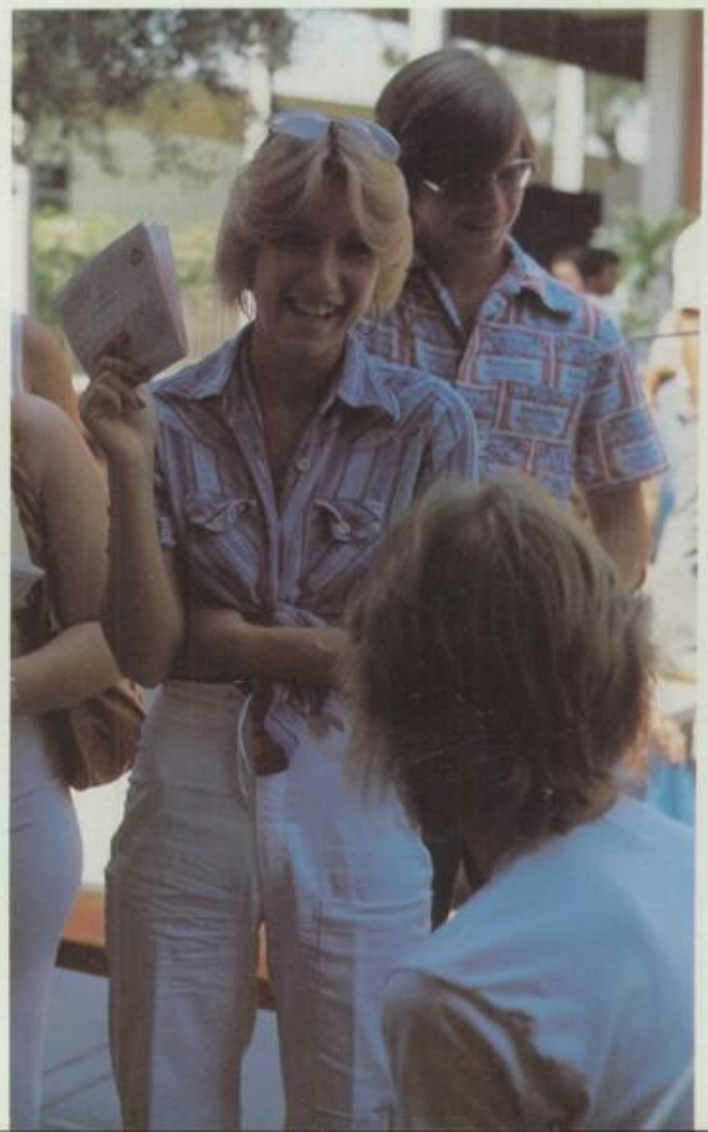

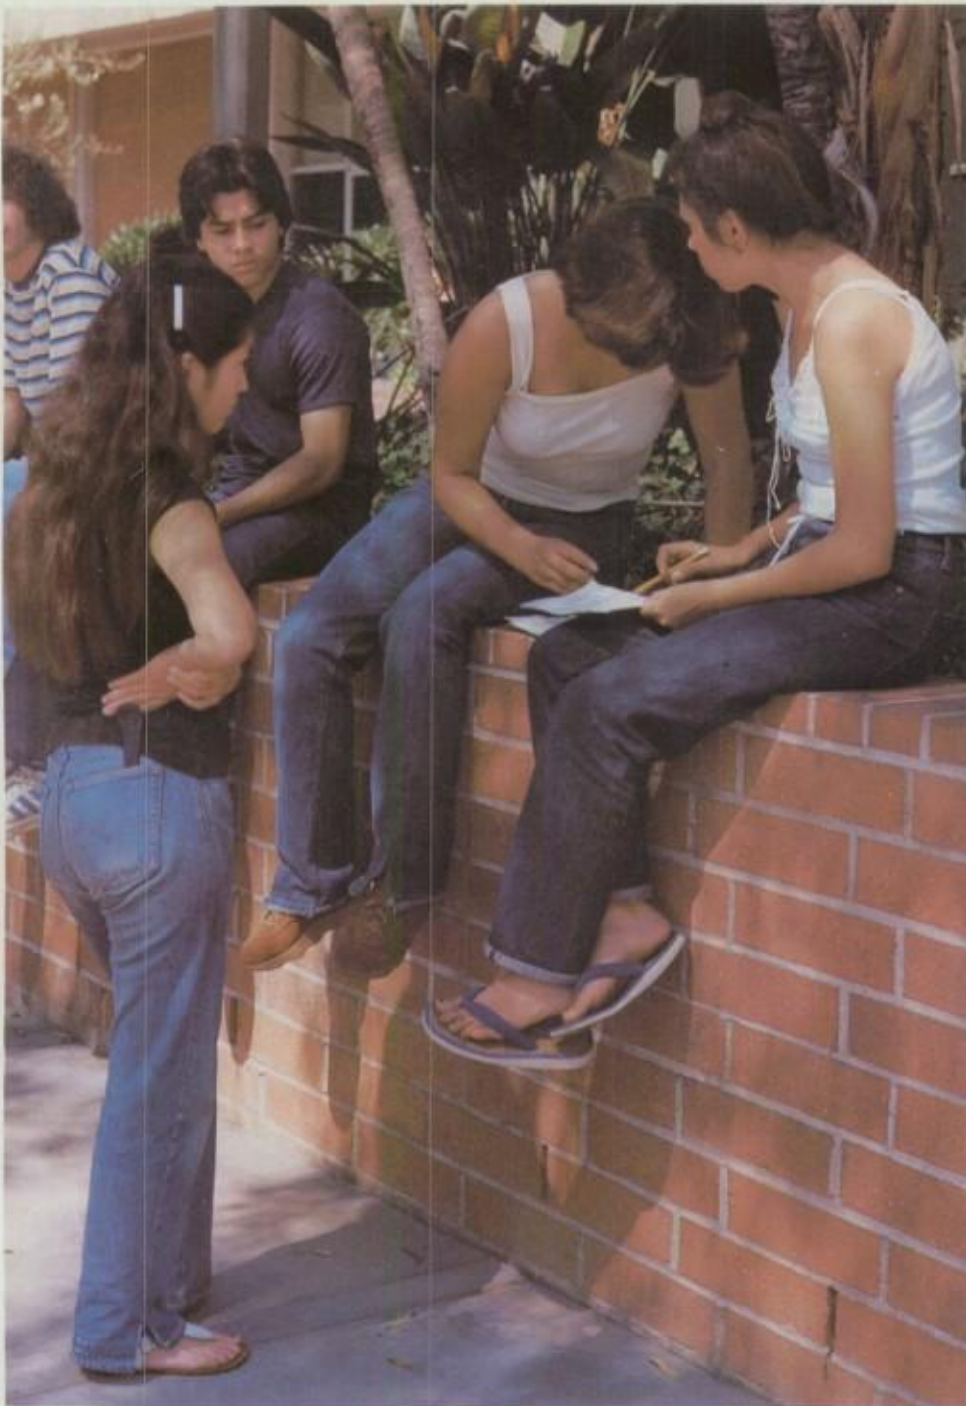

We decide our tomorrows.

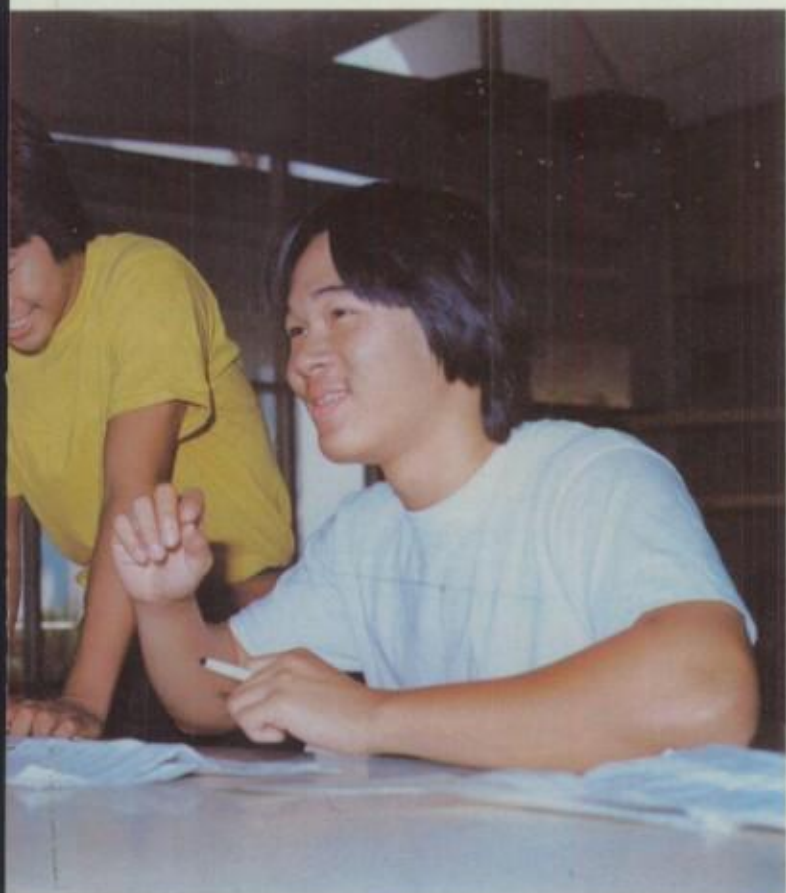

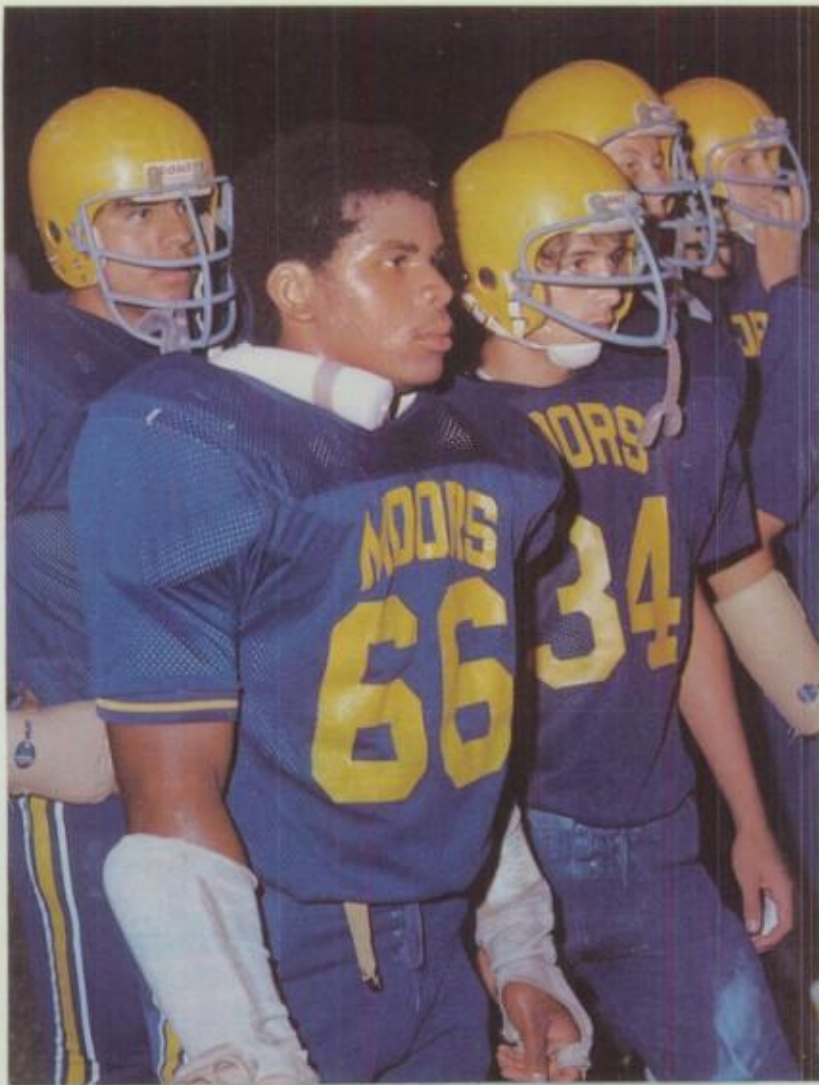

CONFRONTATION

Bodies in motion. Face to face in physical action.
Exuberance, excitement, movement, determination and emotion.

These elements combine and sport is created.
Competing alone or with others, we confront opponents or test our own limits.

TRANSITION

Standing at the crossroads—reflecting on the past and facing the future.
Our time together has been rewarding. We have grown and experienced.
Now is the moment to step ahead and make the transition. In selecting a new path to follow, the process of change is uncertain.
Will we follow the right course? What is in store for us in the direction we choose?

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN

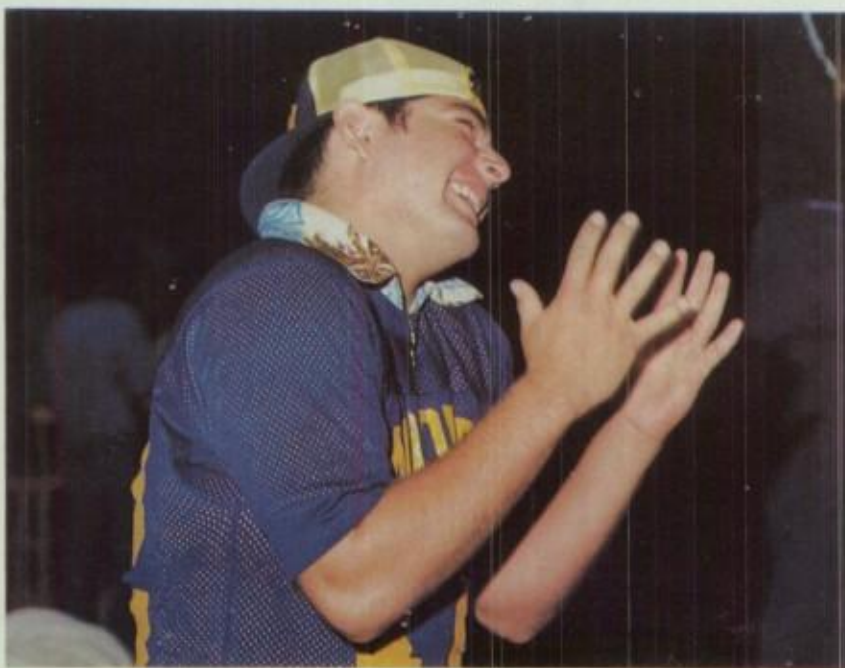

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And be one traveler, long I stood
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it bent in the undergrowth;

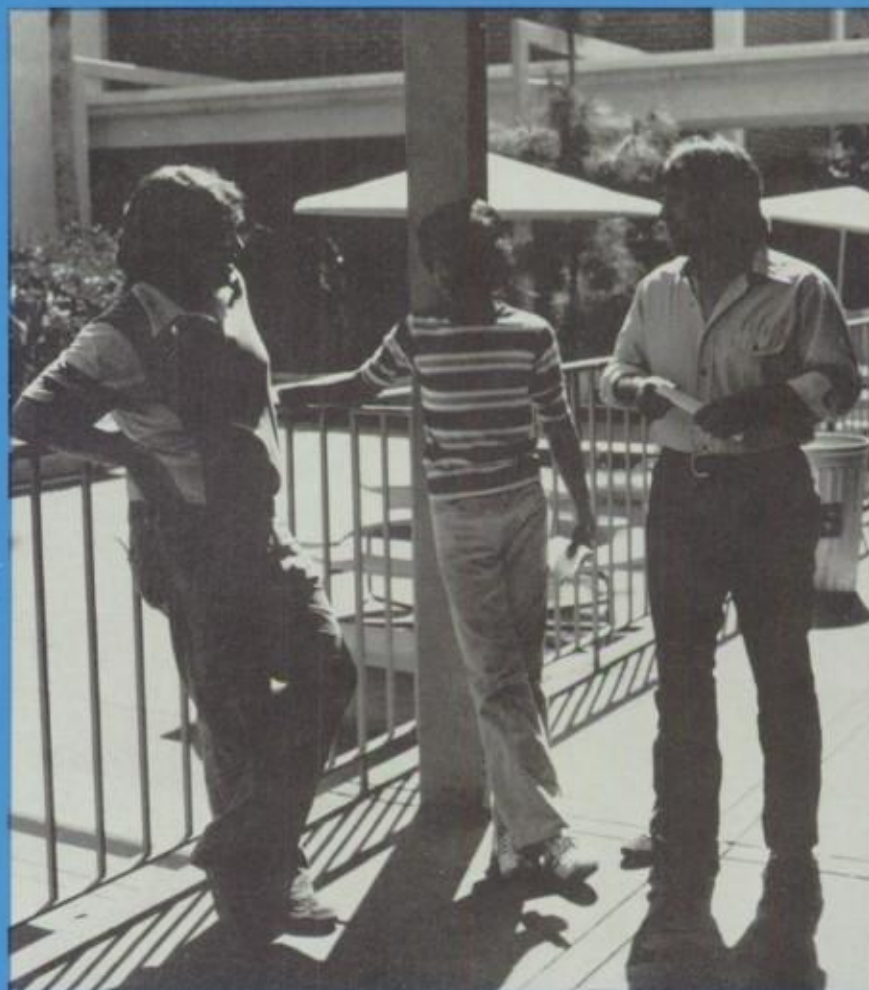

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that, the passing there
Had worn them really about the same,

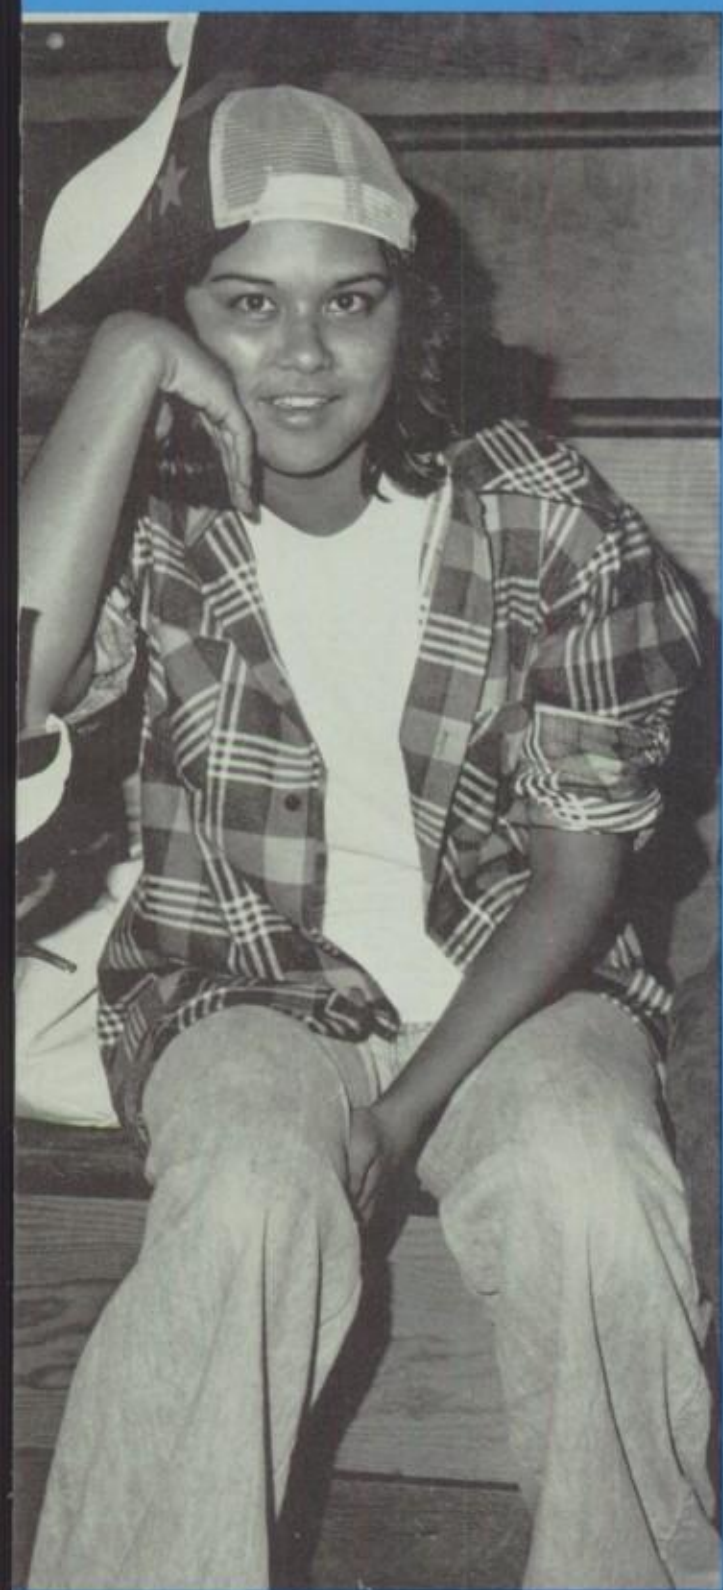

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh
Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

INTERACTION

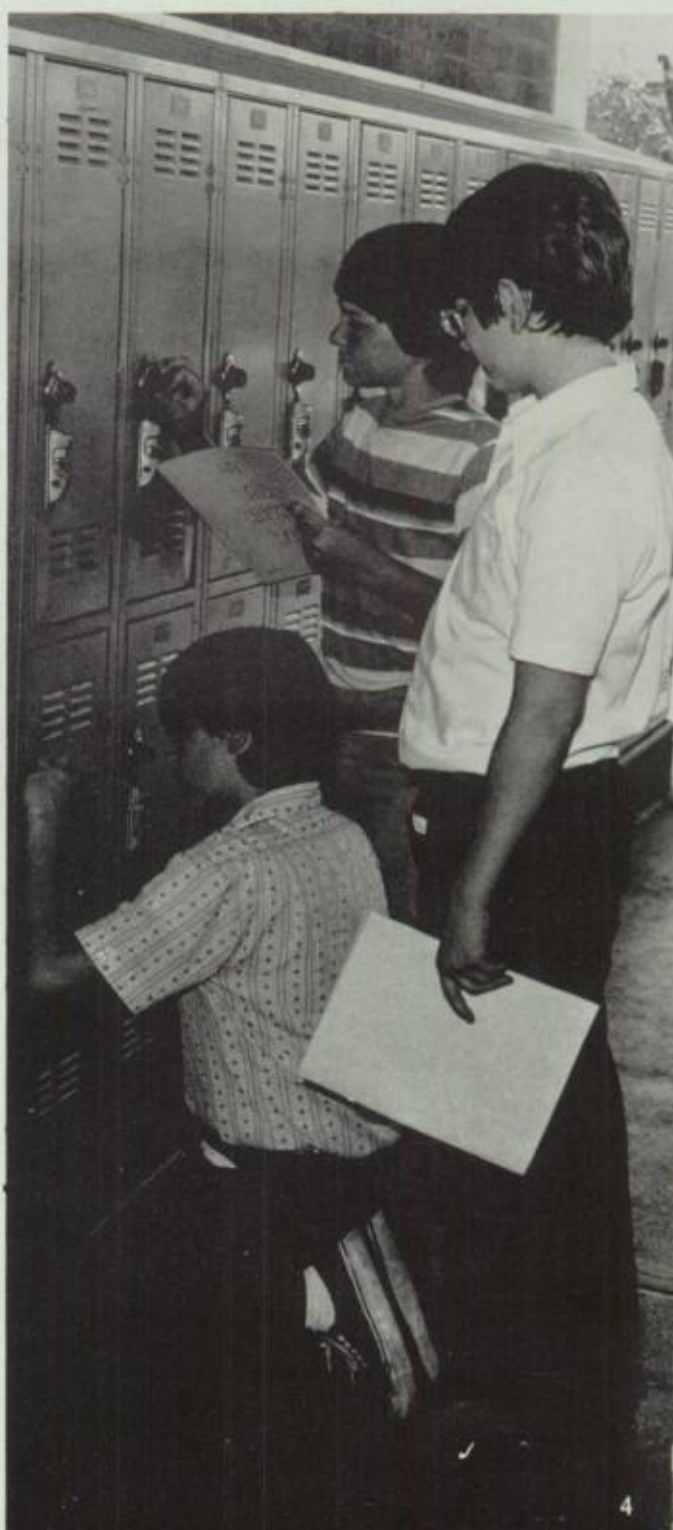

Freshmen Foresee Future In 'AHSLand'

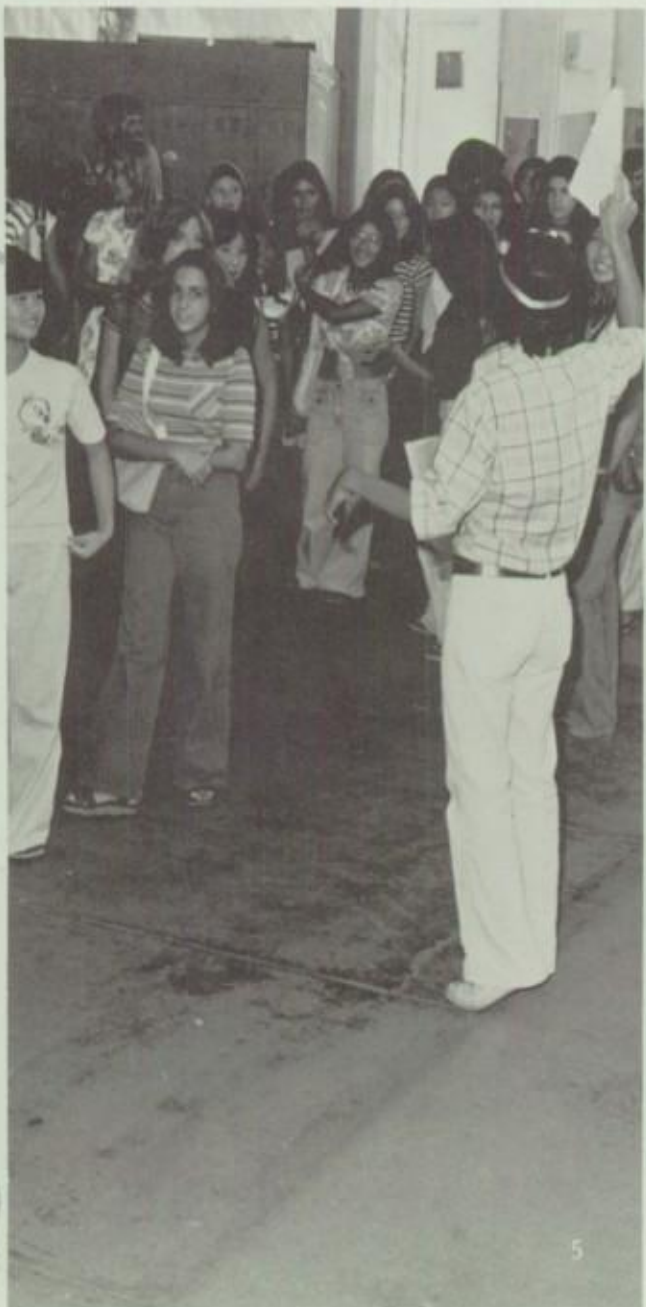

Entering Alhambra High School as newcomers, the freshmen received their first glimpse of high school life at Freshman Orientation. Here they witnessed the spirit of AHS with the Pep Squad, Band and Drill Team performing. Girls' League also welcomed the freshmen by performing "Alice in AHSLand," a skit about the life of a freshman.

The inexperienced frosh were familiarized with the ways of a Moor by being led along the route of AHS in tours guided by Commission, Council members and Pep Squad.

- 1) Tour guides point out various Administration Offices to incoming frosh.
- 2) Freshman girl learns inner secrets of AHS through first edition of the Answer Book.
- 3) With anticipation, new Moor receives locker assignment.
- 4) Eager Freshmen struggle to open newly acquired lockers.
- 5) Commission members inform newcomers about various aspects of high school life.
- 6) Girls' League presents "Alice in AHSLand" to entertain excited freshmen.

GL Freshman Social Provides Helpful Hints

Following freshman orientation, incoming girls were further acquainted with high school life at the Girls' League Freshman Tea. Information about service clubs, student councils, girls' athletics, and other school activities helped answer many of the inexperienced Moors' questions. The tea also included refreshments, entertainment, and the sequel to Girls' Leagues' "Alice in AHS Land," a humorous skit about the life of a freshman.

1) The antics of Alice in the Girls' League skit, "Alice in AHSland", amuses freshman girls. 2) Incoming girls examine program while awaiting start of tea. 3) Girls' League Board members serenade freshman girls. 4) Newcomers listen attentively to information about life at AHS. 5) Alice learns of the different activities AHS has to offer.

Success Haunts 'This Masquerade'

On the cold, dark night of October the eighth, a full moon lured a variety of ghosts, goblins, and vampires to rise up and attend the GL Backward's Dance, "This Masquerade." Creatures of all sorts wandered around the gym, enjoying the evening's activities.

Service clubs, class councils, and other campus organizations sponsored an assortment of booths. During half-time GL Board conducted several games and awarded prizes for the cutest, scariest and most original costumed couples.

1) Raggedy Andy dances to the music of Mike Smith. 2) Sailors display creative ability of cartoonish Earl Gee. 3) Joanne Peebles and Susie Hoffman "boogie to the beat of the band." 4) Dressed as bumble bees, Diane Acevedo and Joe Beer buzz around the dance floor.

Homecoming Fair 'Takes To The Streets'

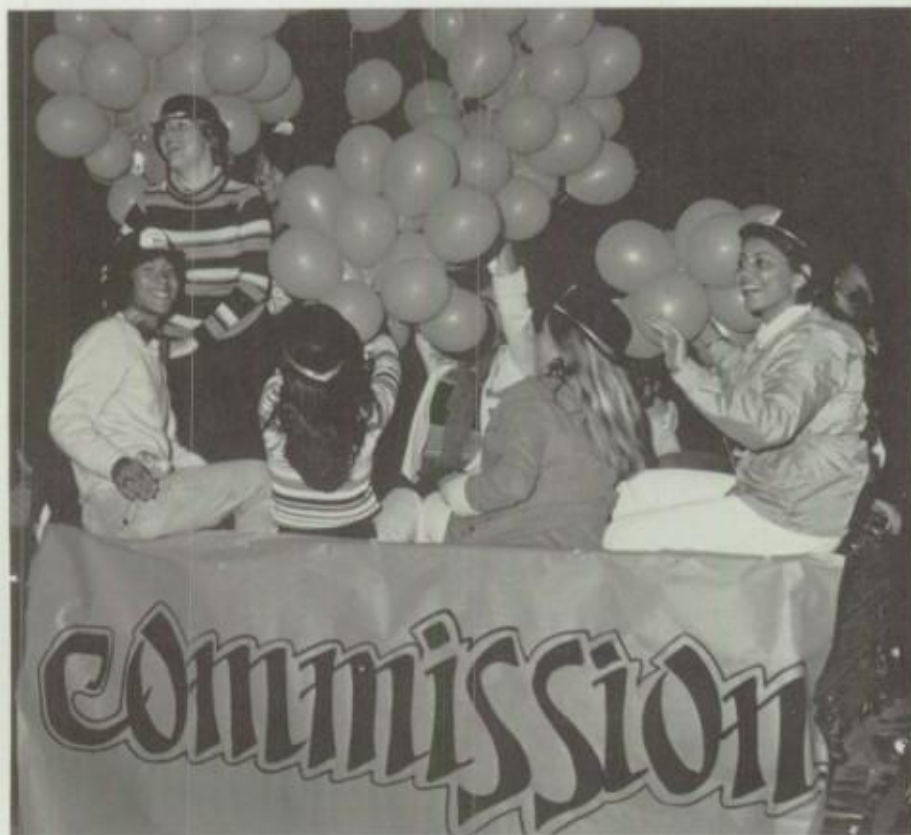

Beaches, Hollywood, Disneyland, all ideas usually associated with "California Dreamin'", this year's Homecoming theme, were represented in mini theme days throughout the week. Enthusiastic participants in class competitions helped to promote school spirit. During both lunches students participated in a variety of contest ranging from tricycle races and frisbee contests to dance competitions and picture crams.

The week's activities culminated at the Homecoming Fair which for the first time was held on Second Street with a block party-like atmosphere. The new location helped draw a large crowd who strongly supported the booths of food and games sponsored by the various clubs. Music provided by the band, Changes, was well-received by the audience and added a lively touch to the picnic. Good food, good friends, and good fun all came together to form what many believe to be the true California Dream.

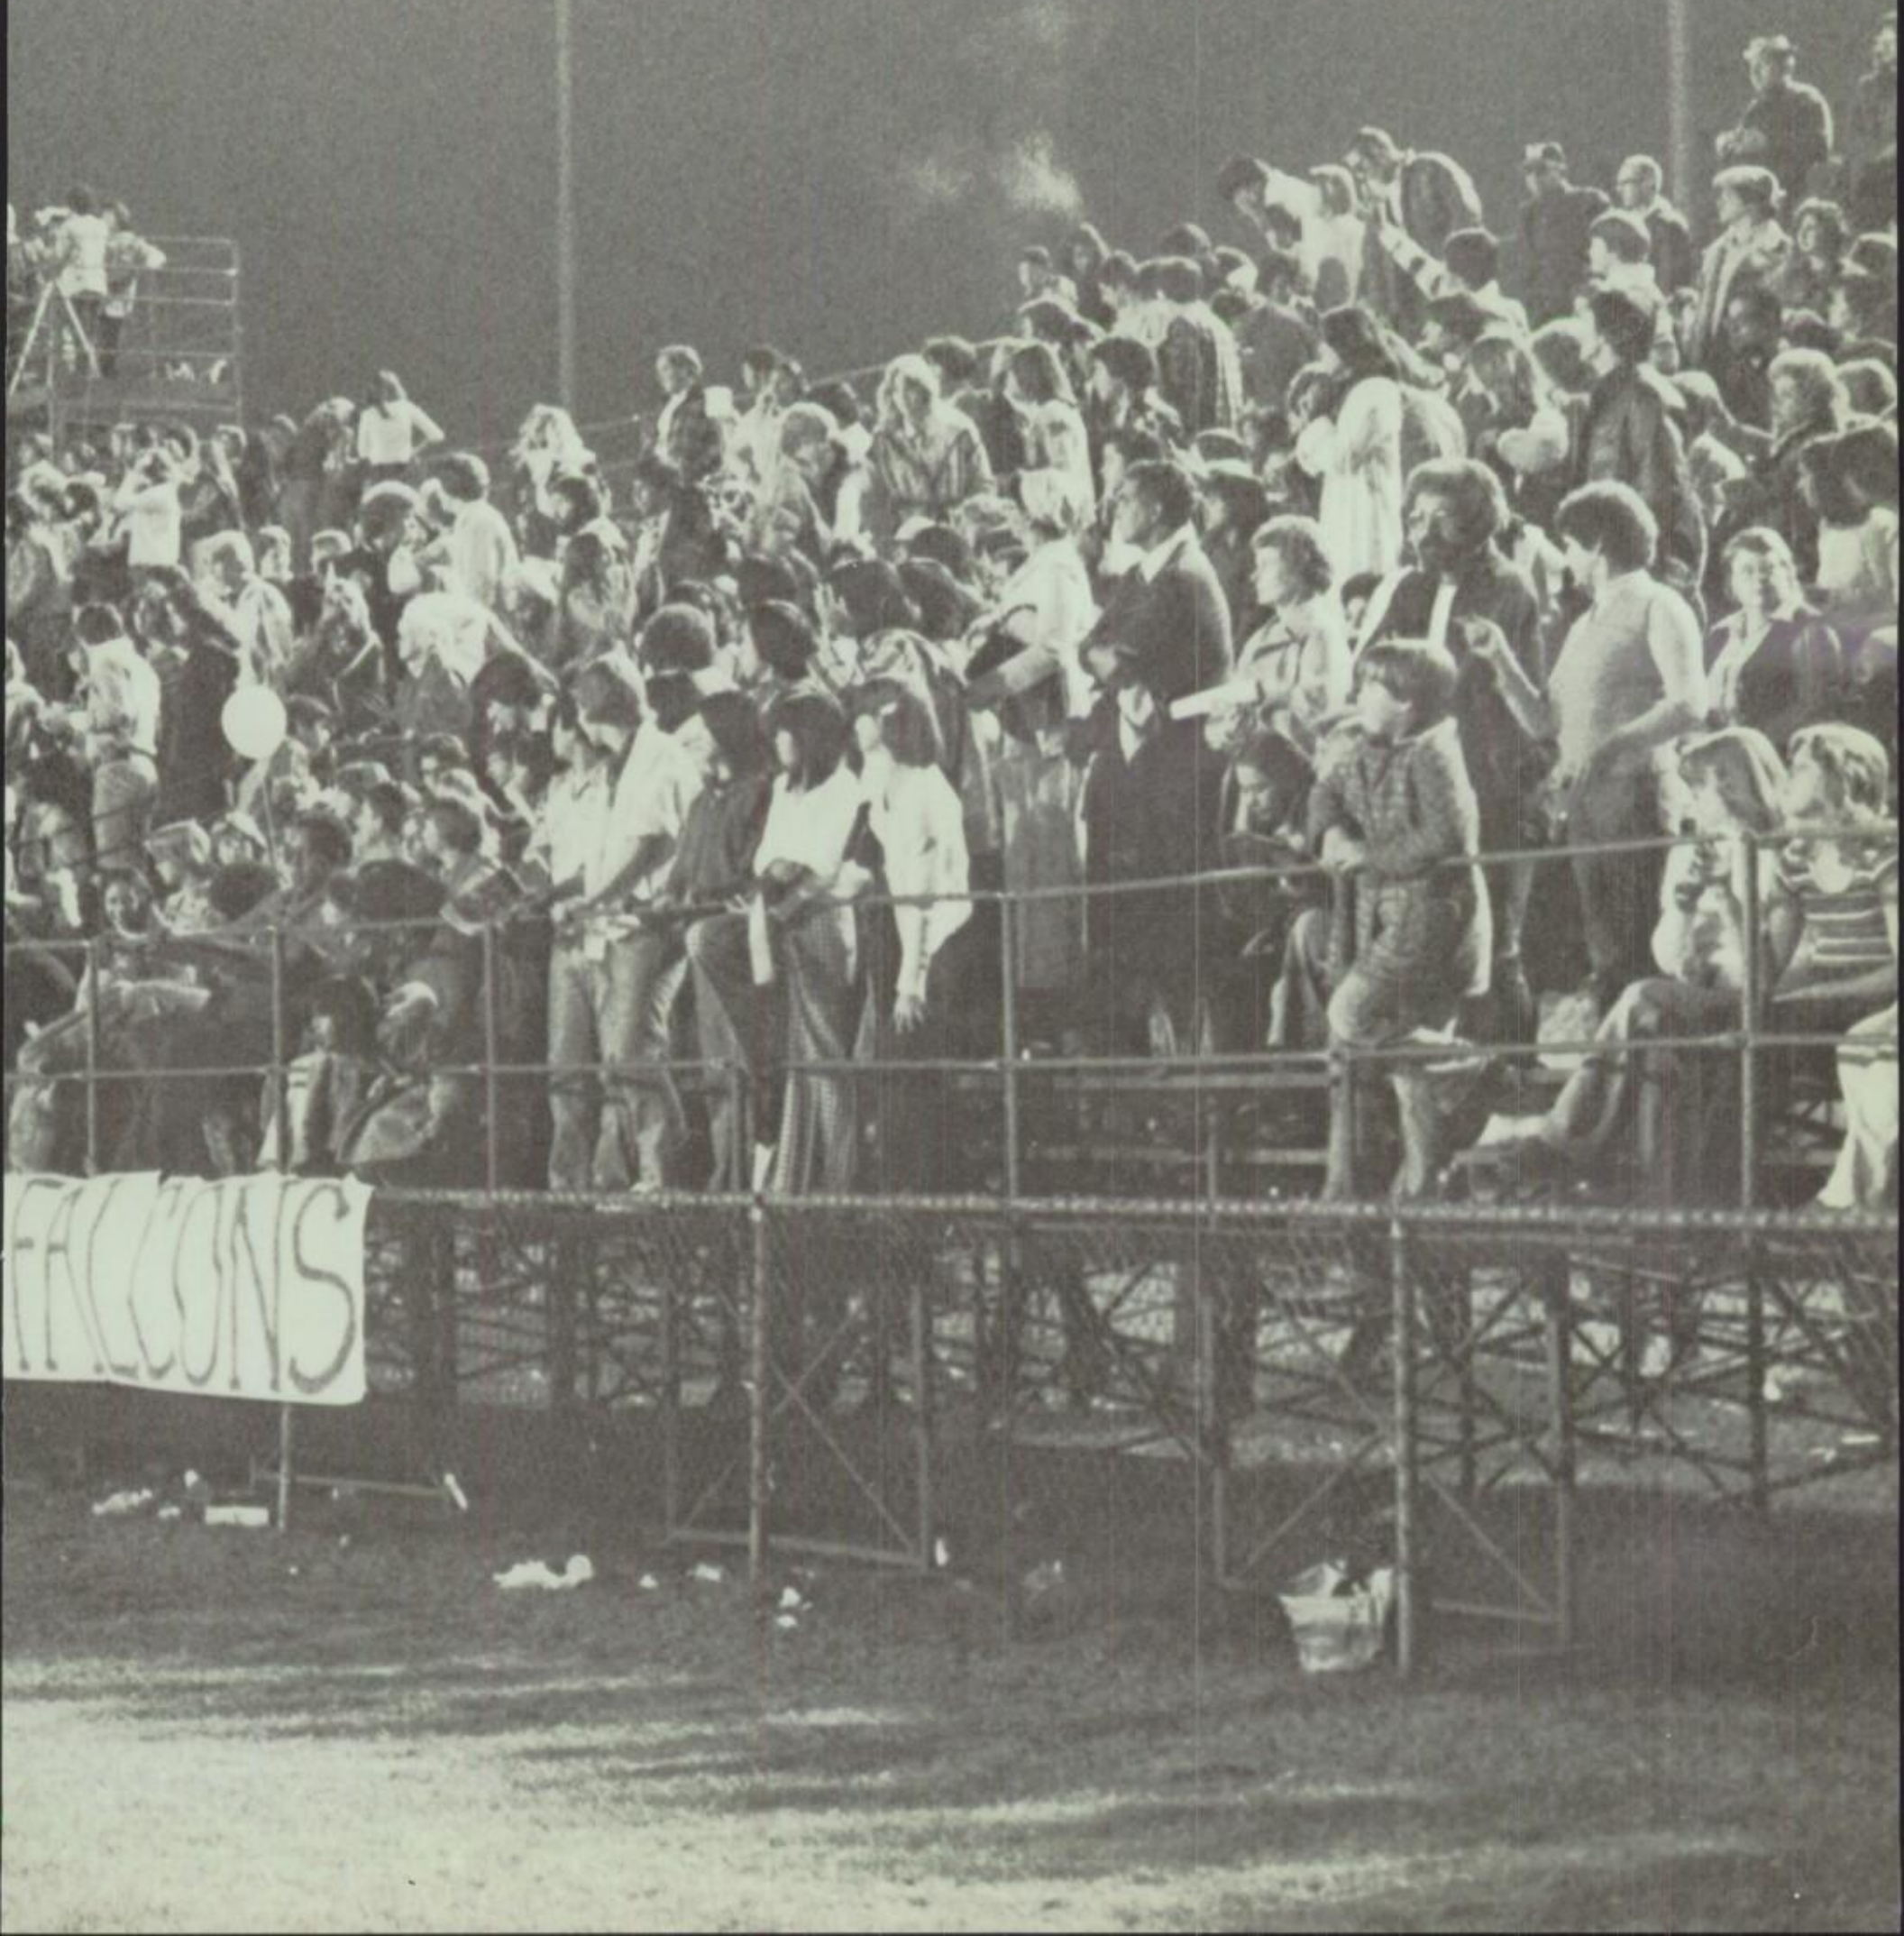

1) Students vie for dance title in class competition. 2.) Steve Placido, Louie Ortega, and Debbie Flores relax before start of Homecoming Fair. 3) Water balloon tossers add excitement to the Fair. 4) Balloons sold by Senior Council display theme of Homecoming activities. 5) Class of '80 enthusiasts pose for the camera. 6) Carlos Ductoc and Mike Gatti enjoy snowcones while watching the Fair's contests.

On cloudy days,
I sit with time and
Dream back to the rainbow days
When the sun came and
Filled my life with color;
And looking back I find that Yesterday makes me smile.

'California Dreams' Prevail At Homecoming

A clear fall night was the perfect setting for the 1977 Homecoming, "California Dreamin'." The Homecoming Court rode in the pregame parade, circling the field in a classic convertible.

Arriving on the field in a silver limousine, the Royal Court was presented at halftime. The high point of the halftime show was the crowning of Queen Phyllis Mieszerski amidst a burst of fireworks and the release of hundreds of sunburst colored balloons. Queen Phyllis and princesses Lori Cox, Cheryl Hashimoto, Paula Ignatieff, and Carol Moritz reigned over the second half of the game.

1) Princess Lori Cox. 2) The Royal Court reigns over Homecoming festivities. 3) Princess Cheryl Hashimoto. 4) Phyllis is escorted by her father, Walter Mieszerski, prior the announcement of the Queen. 5) Queen Phyllis Mieszerski reigns over the second half of the game from her throne. 6) Princess Paula Ignatieff. 7) Princess Carol Moritz.

Homecoming Tops Commission I Activities

Enthusiastically beginning the semester under the leadership of Commissioner General Karen Davis, Commission I planned such activities as Freshman Orientation, Dad's Night and Homecoming. Homecoming, "California Dreamin'," was a success with a variety of new activities such as an afterschool dance and movie and relocating the site of the picnic to Second Street. They also initiated the Turkey Teacher of the Year Award in which students voted for the teacher they thought most deserving of the title. The last event sponsored by the Executive Board was the Christmas Fair. This affair got the student body involved in helping with the Navajo Project.

1) Commissioner General Karen Davis makes a guest appearance at the Freshman Tea. 2) Rowdy pepsters from AHS in a skit presented by Commission during an assembly to help encourage the sale of ASB cards. 3) Phyllis Mieszerski pins name tag on a father prior the start of Dad's Night. 4) FALL COMMISSION: Commissioner General-Karen Davis, Commissioner of Activities-Kelly Harvill, Commissioner of Clubs-Sharon Jacobson, Commissioner of Pep-Kim Carpenter, Commissioner of Girls-Susie Hoffman, Commissioner of Boys-Dennis Ogura, Commissioner of Girls Athletics-Teri Jue, Commissioner of Boys Athletics-Kenzie Kuehnle, Fine Arts-Wendy Lew, Commissioner of Finance-Bernadette Youssef, ALHAMBRA Representative-Blake Kuwahara, MOOR Representative-Paula Ignatieff, Speaker of the Legislature-Dave Kress, Student Relations Chairperson-Carol Moritz, Secretary-Phyllis Mieszerski, Historian-Linda Kolm.

Commission II Offers Convention Revival

Following through with the ideas of Fall Commission, Spring Commission led by Commissioner General Kelly Harvill, planned many activities to help promote more student involvement. The Spring Sports Week, sponsored by the board, included activities such as class competitions and a band during lunches. The showing of the multi-media film, "In the Flow," was an entertaining fund raiser put on by the Commission. The Spring semester officers began making plans for the resurfacing of the tennis courts and the planting of trees between the bungalows. The main goal of Commission II was to revise the format of student body elections to include a political convention instead of general elections.

Not pictured: Commissioner of Boys-Chris Bucci. 3) Linda Kolm and Susie Hoffman prepare marquee fulfilling a weekly responsibility. 4) Commission members plan class competition games for Spring Sports Week.

Improved Organization Strengthens Boys' Fed

Under the leadership of Dennis Ogura, Semester I Boys' Fed president, a more closely united organization emerged. The board faced several difficulties at the onset of the year, but managed to overcome these obstacles through perseverance and co-operation. They sponsored a car rally and a student night at Disneyland.

Semester II Boys' Fed, led by Chris Bucci, concentrated on turning some of their activities into traditions, such as holding an annual car rally. Looking ahead to next year, the group started plans to conduct a car show.

1) Chris Bucci, Semester II president, leads board in discussion of future car rally. 2) Semester I Boys' Fed officers are: Dennis Ogura, president, Paul Talbot, vice-president, John Shin, secretary, Steve Placido, treasurer. 3) Semester II officers include: Chris Bucci, president, Phil Arends, vice-president, Tony Husson, secretary, Steve Placido, treasurer. 4) Mr. Petrini, advisor of Boys' Federation, presides over Semester II board: Phil Arends, Chris Bucci, Glen Fukuma, Steve Henson, Tony Husson, Earl Jew, Steve Placido, John Shin, Steve Wada, Arthur Wong, Warren Yee.

GL Increases Involvement

Susie Hoffman, president of Girls' League Semesters I and II, worked toward a more involved membership for each girl at AHS. A Freshman Social was introduced this year to acquaint the incoming girls with the programs and activities around the campus. The annual GL Backwards Dance again proved to be a great success, as was the Christmas Dance, held for the first time at Oneonta Center in South Pasadena.

Semester II GL Board organized the traditional Valentine sales and Daddy Daughter Dinner at the Luminarius. Backwards Week, a new project added to their program, included games and activities scheduled at lunchtime for the week before the final Backwards Dance in April.

1) GL Board enthusiastically plans for Backwards Week and Dance. 2) Susie Hoffman discusses agenda with Semester I: Lynn Black, Cynthia Campbell, Elena Cordova, Sandy Gee, Susie Gee, Sandy Guerrero, Corinne Higa, Susie Hoffman, Carole Lam, Carole Lui, Jill McMenomy, Carol Moritz, Ingga Ong, Karin Roberts, Carole Taira, May Tom. 3) Semester I officers include: President Susie Hoffman, Vice-President Corinne Higa, Treasurer Ingga Ong, Secretary Carole Taira. 4) Semester II officers confer over upcoming events: President Susie Hoffman, Vice-President Kris Hashimoto, Treasurer Tina Siu, Secretary Cynthia Woo. 5) Semester II takes notes on suggested programs: Lynn Black, Elena Cordova, Tracy Fujimoto, Susie Gee, Kris Hashimoto, Becky Hesse, Susie Hoffman, Sharon Jacobson, Carole Lam, Wendy Lew, Carole Lui, Carrie Sakemi, Tina Siu, Julie Suhr, Cynthia Woo, Debbie Woo.

Active Legislature Proves Effective

The most actively involved in years, Legislature I and II proved how effective a good Legislature can be. The Hart Bill, graduation requirements, and senior privileges were among the major issues of concern. Through discussions and much feedback from the student body, Legislature helped promote better communication and the importance of student government.

1) Legislature members vote on key issues. 2) Legislature I officers are: Sergeant-at-Arms Mike Meyer, Speaker Dave Kress, Vice-Speaker Elena Ponce. Not pictured Secretary Belinda Black, and Treasurer Dave Winchell. 3) Legislature II officers are: Vice-Speaker Paul Talbot, Speaker Elaine Verdugo, Secretary Donna Yamashiro, Sargent-at-Arms Mike Meyer. 4) Representatives listen intently to Speaker Dave Kress.

Debaters Excel In Tournaments

Paced by the dynamic debating of Susie Hoffman and Steve Kaplan, Alhambra maintained the distinction of being one of the top ten debate teams in the nation. Under the guidance of debate coach Greg Cullen, the team competed in twenty-five tournaments, placing well in each one entered. Highlighting the season were trips to USC, UCLA, UC Berkley, and the University of San Francisco. Top qualifying debaters will travel to Northwestern University to compete for national recognition.

1) Steve Pregozen demonstrates the technique necessary for a successful speech. 2) Debators refer to the numerous files and notebooks filled with debate evidence. 3) Debators discuss evidence for upcoming expository. 4) Much intensive research is needed in preparation for a debate tournament. 5) Top debaters Susie Hoffman and Steve Kaplan unwind before an important tournament.

JV Yell, Majorette Promote Spirit

JV Yell Leaders for '77-'78 added spirit and zest to junior varsity sports events during the year. The six member squad also contributed to AHS Pep Squad activities such as rallies, assemblies and fund raisers.

Tina Siu, AHS majorette for a second year, continued to perform at AHS assemblies and events. She was a featured performer with the Moor Marching Band at football half-times and parades. Tina also represented AHS at competitions and brought home many trophies.

Varsity Pep Squad Boosts 'Moor' Spirit

Performing year round, the '77-'78 Varsity Yell and Song Leaders added a dash of excitement to various sport events and school functions. To accomplish this, the squads worked daily to organize rallies, plan activities, practice cheers, and create routines for competitions. Besides these activities, Varsity Yell initiated many new cheers and judged at elementary school competitions. In addition to school functions, the song squad performed at a L.A. Rams game.

AHS Moorettes Perform With Style

Surviving the pressures of strict discipline, the '77-'78 Moorettes displayed style while performing at AHS assemblies, sport events, and activities. Marching in new uniforms, drill team also appeared at special functions such as Cal State LA's homecoming game and various parades in the spring. A small group of Moorettes performed at Arroyo Festival Competition and earned a 7th place trophy for AHS.

Moor Band Represents AHS With Style

Striving for higher standards of performance, the AHS Marching Band stepped up their practice and performance schedule this year. Contributing excitement to the band's appearance at events was the addition of the Tall Flag Corp and Letterbearer groups. Led by Mr. James Banim and Drum Major Robert Tamilio, the band and auxilliary units worked hard to increase band morale at AHS. Sloganed "The Band with Moor", band represented AHS at half-times, rallies, assemblies, parades and earned high ratings for their efforts.

AFS Expands Cultural Horizons

Visiting this year from Svensborg, Denmark, Jeanette Thomsen was this year's AFS student. Jeanette enjoyed the opportunity to experience a way of life in this new and different country. She found her classmates and teachers very interesting and enjoyed the freedom of choosing her own classes. Jeanette was involved in many activities at Alhambra High School but her favorite was Friday night football games at MOOR Field. Jeanette stayed with AHS student Anne Foster and her family during her stay in America.

Spending two months in Finland as an American Abroad Student, Sharon Jacobson learned to adapt to another culture and to the Finnish way of life. Sharon split her time between two host families but spent most her time staying in a summer cottage along the Baltic Sea. Sharon enjoyed relaxing in a sauna as part of the Finnish daily routine. Sharon believes that being part of AFS was a once in a lifetime experience which she will treasure always.

1) Sharon Jacobson shows Jeanette Thomsen some pictures of the highlights of her trip to Finland. 2) Sharon points out where her home for the summer was. 3) Jeanette enjoys the many aspects of life in America. 4) Sharon sits with her "mother" in front of a church in Porvoo, Southern Finland. 5) Sharon and her sister, Suvi, pick wild strawberries in a forest clearing. 6) Jeanette is introduced to the student body along with her host sister Anne Foster.

Navajo Project Exhibits True Spirit Of Season

The Christmas Committee enthusiastically began the annual AHS Navajo Project by sponsoring a variety of games at the Christmas Fair. The committee succeeded in urging students to bring cans, food, and clothing to aid the yearly tradition. An overwhelming response from each classroom helped to break the goals that were set.

The collected articles were packaged for delivery to the Oraibi Indian Reservation in Arizona where the committee paid a visit for four days, and participated in the Navajo Christmas celebration. The committee consisted of Jamie Alterman, Laura Bridges, Bruce Chew, Renee Esquer, Jerry Gee, David Jones, Cherrie Meyer, and Karen Yukawa. Their advisors were Mrs. Harris, Mr. Spence, and Mr. Hasbrouck.

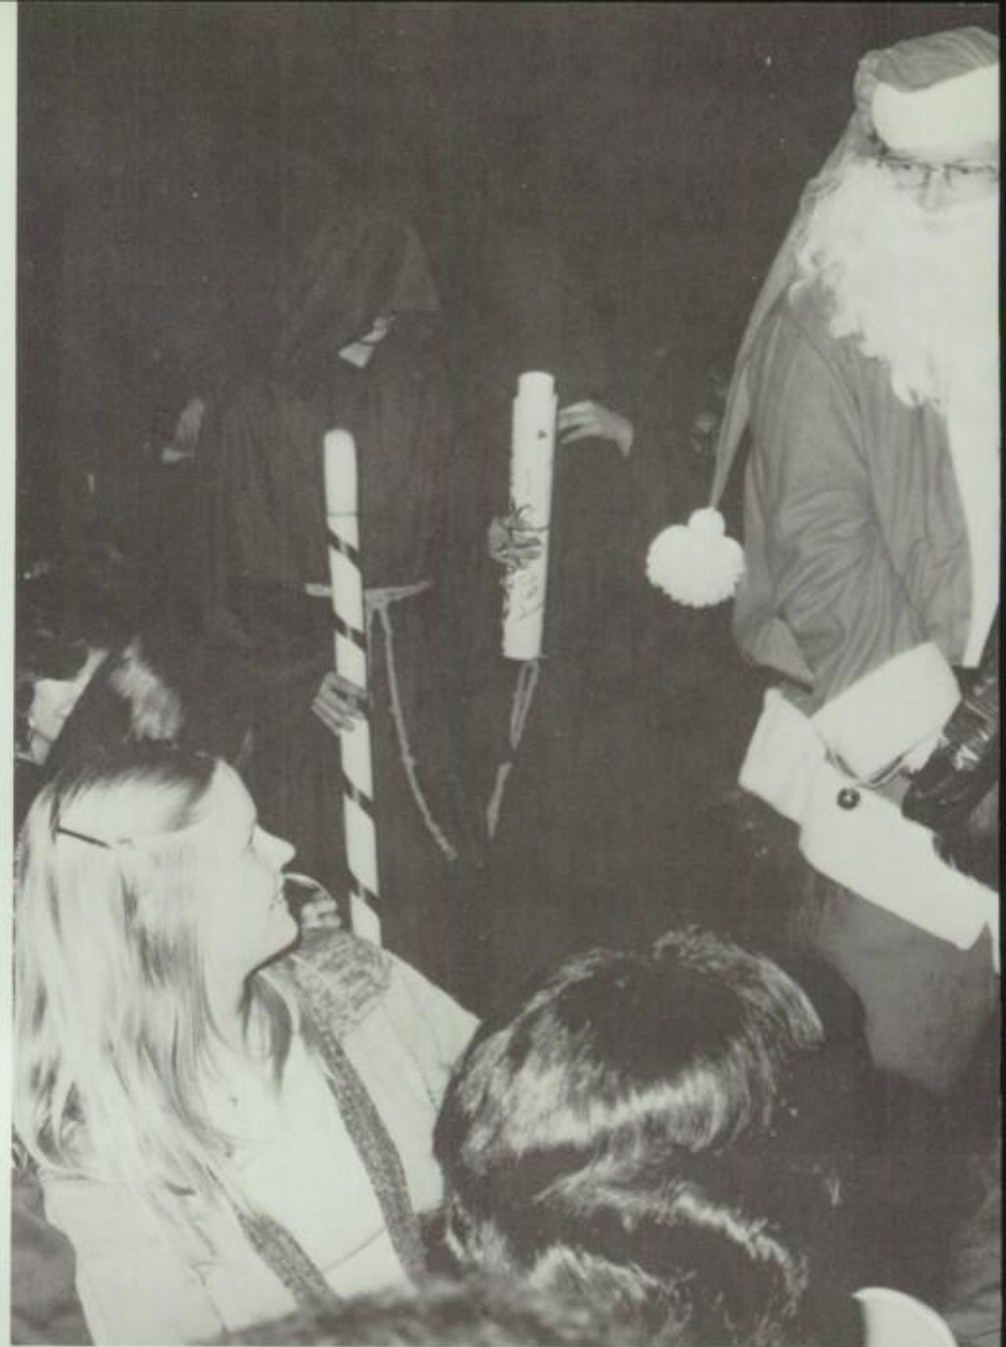

1) Christmas Committee and Navajo youngsters stand together for a group picture. 2) Nursery school teacher relates the story of Christmas to her captive audience. 3) Navajo girl smiles gratefully after receiving gifts of food and toys. 4) Bruce Chew gives his help in organizing the many items donated by AHS students. 5) Laura Bridges and Jerry Gee take a break after working long hours on the successful project. 6) Unloaded articles are stacked onto tables before being handed out to needy families. 7) Two young girls pose for a picture in the traditional Navajo costume.

Christmas Fair Sparks Holiday Spirit

Spirits ran high as AHS students celebrated the Christmas season. First semester Commission sponsored a Christmas Fair to help raise funds for the Navajo Project. At the fair, clubs sold food and crafts; the Christmas Committee sponsored various games. Held in conjunction with Christmas week was a Donkey Basketball game between the Alhambra City Council and the 'KHS-Offs' to raise money for the Moor bleacher fund.

In keeping with tradition, AHS presented its annual Christmas Assembly which featured a skit following the 'Star Wars' theme. Santa Claus, Jim Tedford, enhanced the Christmas Spirit as he handed out the first annual intergalactic space awards, and presented AFS student, Jeanette Thomsen, with a gift from the student body.

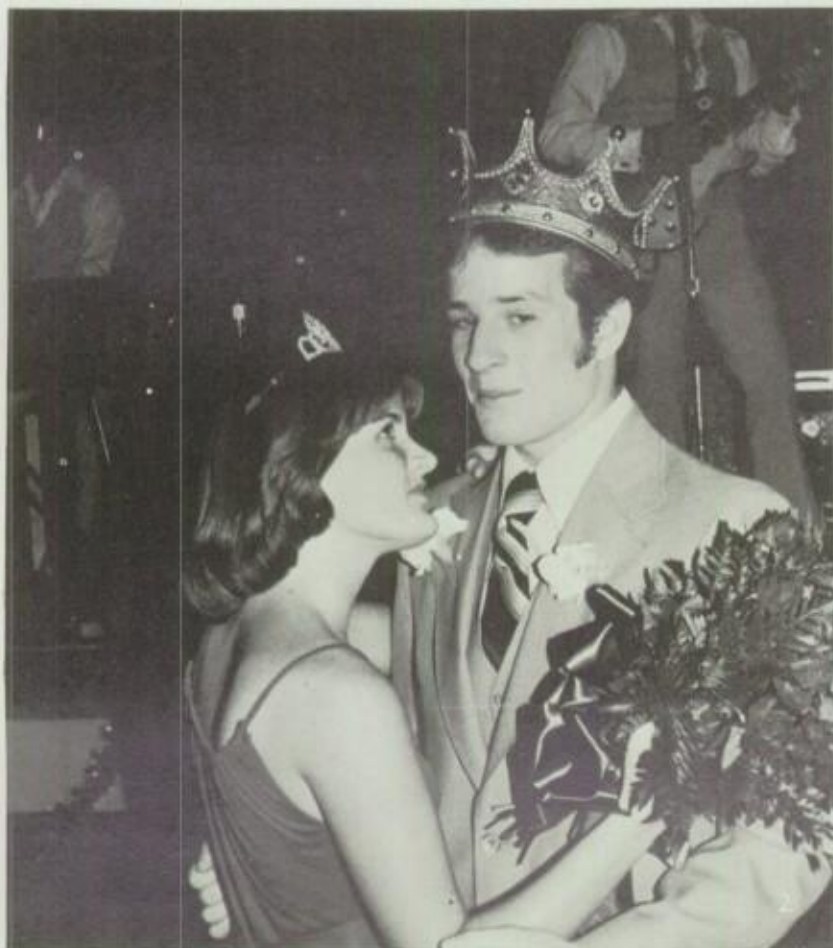

1) Santa and his helpers brighten the spirits of the Christmas Assembly audience with a 'ho ho ho' and a handful of candy canes. 2) Christmas Committee members display Santa's list of club donations to the Navajos. 3) Mrs. Harris awaits the inevitable sponge-in-the-face as she participates in one of the contests at the Christmas Fair. 4) Merchants prepare their goods to be sold. 5) Mayor Steve Ballreich takes a moments rest to watch the action at the Donkey Basketball game. 6) A Capella Choir members add to the mood of the season by performing carols during the Christmas Fair.

'Crystal Visions' Mirrors Holiday Spirit

The annual Christmas Dance, sponsored by Girls' League, was held at the Oneonta Center in South Pasadena. The new location, a first, drew a large and festive crowd which danced to the sounds of "Hazard to Your Hip." The highlight of the dance, "Crystal Visions," was the procession of the Royal Court and the crowning of Queen Mary Stewart and King Craig Young.

Daughters Toast Dads At GL Dinner

AHS girls treated their fathers to this year's Ninth Annual All-American Daddy-Daughter Dinner held at the Luminarias Restuarant. Master of Ceremonies, Mr. Larry Spence, and Girls' League President, Susie Hoffman, led the evening's activities which included such games as a lookalike contest, the traditional Daddy-Daughter game and many door prizes. Special awards written by the daughters prior to the dinner were presented to the deserving fathers as well as a special presentation of "What is a father" by members of Girls' League. The evening came to a close as Mr. Larry Spence led the fathers and daughters in the traditional closing song, "Thank Heaven for Little Girls."

1) Girls' League President Susie Hoffman summons applause in the Daddy-Daughter lookalike contest. 2) AHS coeds and their fathers nervously await the next question in the Daddy-Daughter game. 3) Fathers and daughters anticipate the start of the dinner. 4) Krista Spence calls out the winning raffle ticket number.

Sports Queen, Court Crown Winter Season

Winter Sports Week came to a climax with the crowning of Queen Cathy Cortese. The queen and her court were presented during half-time of the Alhambra-San Gabriel basketball game. After the game, a dance was held in honor of the queen and her court.

The Winter Sports Court consisted of Rosa Cabral, Cathy Cortese, Marsha Erickson, Debbie Franzen, Beckie Hesse, and Maggie Nunez.

- 1) Soccer Princess Rosa Cabral is presented by her escort Pat Montoya. 2) Soccer Princess Marsha Erickson is presented by her escort Steve Aston. 3) Queen Cathy Cortese, nominated by Varsity Wrestling, poses with her Royal Court. 4) Basketball Princess Debbie Franzen is presented by her escort Kenzie Kuehnle. 5) Newly announced queen, Cathy Cortese, accepts flowers from last year's Queen Danielle Byington. 6) Basketball Princess Maggie Nunez is presented by her escort Robert Ramirez. 7) Wrestling Princess Beckie Hesse is presented by her escort Craig Young.

Sports Court Reigns Over Spring Activities

The coronation of Queen Nancy Ito, nominated by Varsity Tennis, at an assembly, marked the beginning of Spring Sports Week. The week was highlighted by events and games held in honor of the Queen and her court.

The court was comprised of six girls nominated by the Spring Varsity sports teams. The girls were Bonnie Goodhew, Vanessa Herek, Susan Osborne, Grettel Rojas, Jackie Tom and Queen Nancy Ito.

Choir Ensemble Excels In Perfection

A Cappella Choir started out fresh this year with an all new group of singers. The choir showed tremendous talent as they sang for several community organizations such as the YMCA, the Alhambra City Schools District Office, and many civic clubs. To prepare for one of their main appearances, the Christmas program, the group traveled to Idylwild in November. Other activities included Christmas caroling on Main Street, competing in the Festival of Arts, and performing for Baccalaureate.

The Chamber Singers are a small, select group of vocalists chosen from A Cappella Choir. It consists of three sopranos, three altos, and two bases who were picked at the beginning of second semester this year. The ensemble will build a repertoire around madrigals and other music suitable for an intimate group.

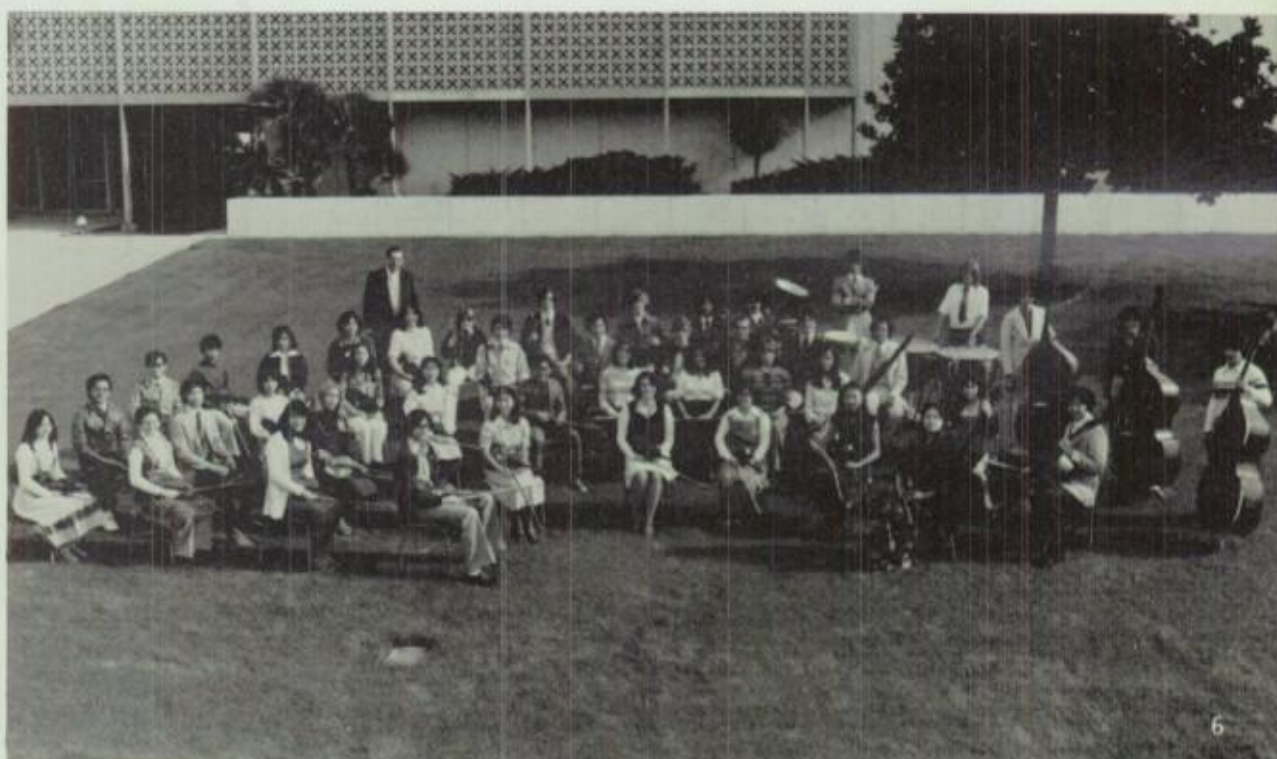

1) The members of A Cappella Choir are: Pedro Alvarez, Sharon Buchany, Corinne Calhoun, Cynthia Campbell, Maria Chow, Giannina Curone, Gary Domasin, Russell Fries, Laura Grana, Rhonda Hernandez, Yoonmee Hong, Horatio Montoya, Robert Moreno, Dean Yung Myung, Linda Pace, Nancy Parsons, Nettie Pauly, Jamie Serrano, Jui-Lin Su, Catherine Tornero, Michael Torres, Marianne Tripodes, Christopher Williams, Ellen Wong, Nancy Wong, Wei-Ling Wu, Elaine Yasuda. 2) The members of Chambers Singers include: SOPRANOS: Linda Pace, Cynthia Campbell, Wei-Ling Wu. ALTOS: Corinne Calhoun, Laura Grana, Rhonda Hernandez. BASES: Gary Domasin, Michael Torres. 3) The dedicated singers find that long hours of hard work pay off in the end. 4) Chris Williams accompanies choir on the piano. 5) Choir director, Mr. Charles Lutz, gives last minute instructions before rehearsal.

Orchestra Enjoys Noteworthy Year

The AHS orchestra performed consistently with much musical self-discipline. They set the mood for the All School Play, Dracula, and also performed at various assemblies and concerts. A smaller group of instrumentalists played for the musical Charlie Brown. The AHS ensemble, under the direction of Dr. Sheridan, improved their creative abilities by attending the music camp at Idyllwild.

The orchestra was honored by having Nick Bucci selected as a member of the All-Southern California Orchestra as well as the All-State Band.

1) Alisa Rubin captures the mood of the melody. 2) Dr. Sheridan conducts the ensemble during a student assembly. 3) Bass players are added dimensions to the music of the orchestra. 4) AHS orchestra helps ring in the Christmas spirit at the annual Christmas Assembly. 5) Violinists intently play their parts. 6) Members of the orchestra: N. Fall School Play, 'Dracula' Haunts AHS

Bats, wolves, bloodsucking vampires, and wooden stakes were again frightening audiences as AHS presented the Fall School Play "Dracula." The Gothic horror mystery is the story of a young girl, Lucy Seward who falls victim to Dracula, an immortal, vampire. However, through the efforts of her lover, Jonathan Harker, her father, Dr. Seward, and her father's colleague Dr. Van Helsing, Lucy is saved from the vampire's control. "Dracula," under the directions of Lanny Watkins was held on November 17, 18, and 19.

1) Dracula extends his hypnotic power over Renfield. 2) Professor Van Helsing and Butterworth, the attendant, listen to Renfield's "words of wisdom." 3) Dracula crawls from his earth grave to terrorize Lucy Seward. 4) Professor Van Helsing delves into the nature of Lucy's nightmares. 5) The maid, Miss Wells, wards off Butterworth's advances.

'Anne Frank' Recounts Tale of Courage

'Anne Frank', the factual account of a Jewish family's seclusion from the Nazis during World War II was this year's spring production. Many dedicated hours of hard work by actors, actresses and behind-the-scenes workers paid off with three stunning performances May 4, 5, and 6. The use of one set throughout the play added to the realism of the drama. The solemn and intense subject matter presented a great challenge for the actors in the portrayal of the characters

OBBLIGATO Strives To Maintain Excellence

OBBLIGATO is an imaginative magazine created and produced annually by members of Writers' Guild. The Guild selects and arranges the material into a representation of the Alhambra students body's creative talents. The magazine includes poetry, short stories, sketches, and photography submitted by students. Through the efforts of editor Catherine Wong and her staff, the OBBLIGATO strove to maintain an All American rating.

Writers' Guild members include Phil Arends, Earl Gee, Jerry Gee, Pam Hamanaka, Doug Hoffman, Dave Jones, Bob Oong, Julie Suhr, Douglas Sun, Catherine Wong, Judi Wong, Cynthia Woo.

1) Faculty advisor Sharon Hoffman takes a moment to relax. 2) Writer' Guild members work diligently on layout designs. 3) Editor Catherine Wong displays possible pictures for the OBBLIGATO. 4) Doug Hoffman critiques a poem submitted for the magazine. 5) Staff members attentively listen to editing instructions.

ALHAMBRA Utilizes Creative Techniques

Through the incorporation of various graphic techniques, the ALHAMBRA staff presented the theme, Crossroads, in this year's annual. The use of spot color and the addition of essay sections gave new dimensions to the book.

The staff, under the guidance of faculty advisor, Andrea Thais, attended various conferences throughout the year at which they learned new ways of presenting the pictorial record of the year. With the help of five photographers, more coverage was given to the various activities and events at AHS.

MOOR Staff Continues In All-American Style

With the completion of its second year of offset printing production, the staff of THE MOOR perfected the various techniques of this printing process and experimented with new ideas in style. The savings afforded by the offset press permitted thorough coverage in such areas as humor, photography, artwork, reviews and reader reaction.

Under the direction of Semester I Editor Cynthia Woo and Semester II Editor Sandy Gee, THE MOOR concentrated on such school related issues as student rights, AHS theater, rape, Alhambra redevelopment and changing education standards.

The annual influx of underclassmen to the staff offered a wide range of high quality writing and photography skills while assuring that the newspaper will continue in its tradition of outstanding coverage. The advisor for THE MOOR was Ted Tajima.

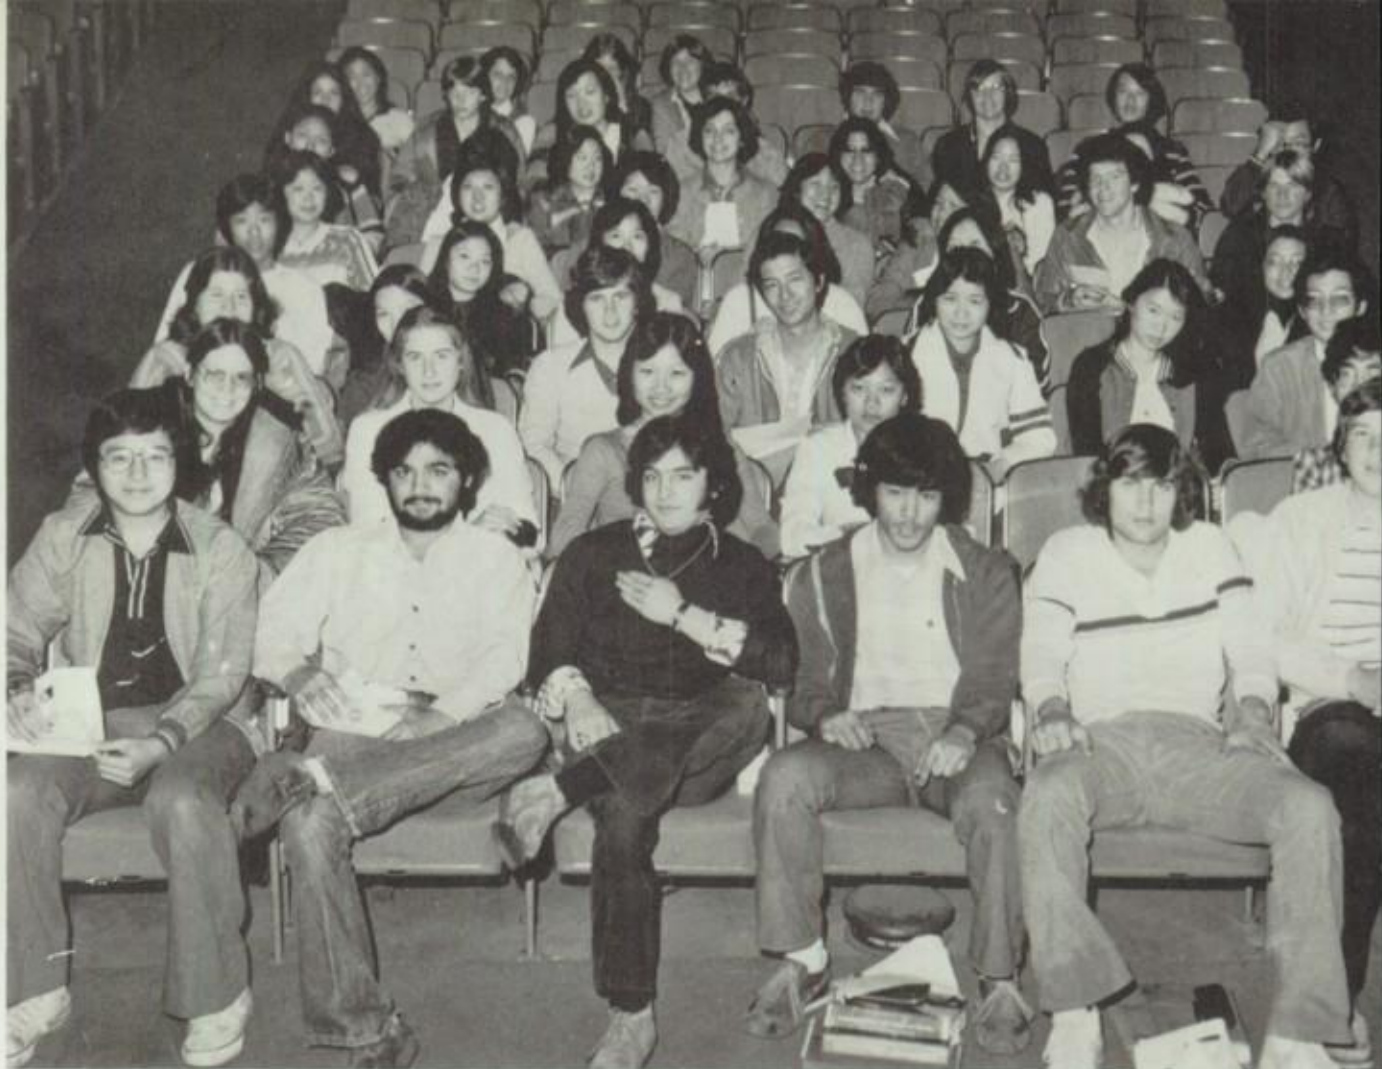

1) Staff writers prepare copy for a publishing deadline. 2) Semester I Editor Cynthia Woo and Semester II Editor Sandy Gee discuss ideas for a new layout with advisor Ted Tajima. 3) Members of all class levels make up this years' MOOR Staff. 4) Sandy Gee looks back on a past issue of THE MOOR. 5) Staff members plan for an upcoming issue of THE MOOR.

Students Attain Scholastic Honor

This semester CSF members participated in donating cans of food to the Navajos and the selling of candy to raise money for scholarships. This year, forty seniors were awarded life membership. An annual reception for these CSF Life Members and their parents was held on March sixteenth in the student cafeteria. All CSF members enjoyed the semi-annual holiday at Newport Beach.

Special Interest Clubs Stress Involvement

THEATRE SERVICES GUILD faithfully ushered at each play and musical program Alhambra produced. Their dedication also led them to work the "Forum and Lecture Series", sponsored by AHS's Adult Night School - a travelog offered weekly to interested citizens. COM-LINE, a new journalistic production, has not failed to keep students up-to-date on school and community activities. The paper, distributed to all second period classes, was sponsored by the career center. ORCHESIS promoted the art of dance by performing for Alhambra's Christmas assembly and various grammar schools. The troupe's bi-annual dance concert, "one singular sensation", featured music and dance from musicals and movies. Their interest inspired them to perform in a variety show as well as at open house and back-to-school night.

Special Interest Clubs Partake In Activities

In order to broaden their knowledge, MATH-SCIENCE CLUB planned several educational field trips. Among them was a trip to Griffith Park's Laserium. Several guest speakers gave lectures on such topics as "The Continental Drift" and "The Strongest Asset in the World." COMCAS, a military-oriented departmental club, devoted much of its time exploring the many facets of warfare. Members of the club periodically tested their skill and strategy in games that were re-creations of actual battle situations. The club's year was highlighted by field trips to both the local rifle range and the annual gun convention. Performing well throughout the year, the CHESS CLUB demonstrated their excellent skill and chess strategy in several tournaments throughout the district. Capturing second place in both the Rolling Hills Tournament as well as in the Foothill Chess League, this year's Chess team showed great promise.

1,2,6) CHESS CLUB: D. Busch, D. Fujino, J. Hum, S. Lee, H. Lifland, E. Lui, B. Mah, A. Mazzairelli, G. Sanchez, A. Sciarra, J. Shih, H. Yamane, A. Young. 3,4) COMCAS: H. Chou, G. Conboy, J. Club Activities Increase Spirit

The number of PEP CLUB members has been increasing rapidly, and this year the people involved formed the most enthusiastic group ever. They attended many of the sports events and helped add to the spirit of each game. Bake sales and Pep T-Shirt sales were just some of the fundraisers held in order to pay for pep pins. This year AMATEUR RADIO CLUB furthered their knowledge on code-sending. The hobby inspired club has been learning morse code and has sent messages all over the country, reaching as far as the East Coast. The rain limited the amount of time for HIKERS CLUB'S activities. However, they were still able to make various weekend trips to the Angeles Mountains, Whitman Ranch, Devil's Punchbowl, and East Fork. Trips to Switzer Falls and Mount Lowe were made in one day, and during Spring Vacation they toured the Grand Canyon.

Cultural Clubs Enhance Student Interest

The sixty members of GERMAN CLUB met twice a month to further their knowledge of the German language and culture. They sponsored an Oktoberfest, a Christmas cookie decorating party, and a German Day celebration trip to Busch Gardens. Candy sales, car washes, and bake sales were among German Club's fund raisers. SPANISH HONOR SOCIETY held a pinata celebration during Christmas Vacation and hosted a guest speaker. They journeyed to Old Towne, San Diego, in November. As their fund raiser, they had a booth at the Christmas Fair. Wearing togas to recreate ancient history, LATIN CLUB gave a banquet in celebration of the gods. They also held their annual Saturnalia in which they invited all the language clubs to join in the festivities of Christmas. FRENCH CLUB began the year with many different activities. Among them were a Christmas party and a French movie. They also went ice skating and visited a French restaurant. Their See's candy sale was a success.

Cultural Clubs Seek Greater Involvement

In recent years cultural clubs have grown in numbers and members. With the primary purpose to provide a means of communication between the vast variety of students at AHS, many students have become involved. The CHINESE INTERNATIONAL CLUB directed their activities toward fulfilling this purpose in showing Chinese movies and sponsoring basketball tournaments, as well as dances. These activities enabled the club to make a trip to Magic Mountain later in the year. The INTERNATIONAL CLUB, an Alhambra based American Field Service chapter spent most of the year raising funds to send an Alhambra student abroad through such fundraisers as an International Dinner. Members also donated their time in helping AFS student Jeanette Thompsen of Denmark and in planning AFS Week. NEW HORIZONS CLUB provided its members with a variety of activities including guest speakers on drug abuse, magicians, beach parties, roller skating, Magic Mountain, and picnics. The club had candy sales and egg drives to finance these activities.

Clubs Demonstrate Unity, Dedication

Interclub council, an organization consisting of all service club presidents, met weekly to discuss service projects and assignments. The council organized many activities throughout the year including paper drives, club competition, bungalow painting, and club socials.

PEQUENITAS SERVICE CLUB demonstrated hard work and dedication in sponsoring two foster children, as well as volunteering time in nearby convalescent homes. Other services included Rose Parade float decorating, egg drives for the Easter Seal Foundation, and helping local elementary schools. JUNIOR EXCHANGE SERVICE CLUB participated in Interclub competition, collected aluminum cans, and raised money through a car wash. Retirement home parties, can tab drives, and the March of Dimes Future Parents Walk describe a few of the services INTERACT SERVICE CLUB provided.

Service Clubs Participate In Community Projects

LAS MORAS SERVICE CLUB began an eventful year by making and setting up decorations for the Alhambra Athletes' Reunion. Following this, the club sold strips at the Christmas Fair, raising enough money to donate sixty dollars, wash cloths, and towels to the Navajos. Other services included donating items to convalescent homes, decorating a Homecoming float, and participating in all Commission activities. To increase membership, JR.

CIVITAN SERVICE CLUB participated in many social activities, such as a pot luck dinner, a Christmas party, and an ice cream social. Various other services included baking cookies for the Bloodmobile, donating magazines to the Navajos, and decorating Christmas tray favors for an Episcopal Home. KEY SERVICE CLUB began the year by raising money for various charities. They sponsored a car rally and other fund raisers in order to donate three hundred dollars worth of sporting equipment, and two hundred fifty cans of food to the Navajos. They also donated seventy dollars worth of gifts to other Christmas projects. KEY CLUB participated in the United Way kick-off campaign, and were placed in charge of organizing the "City of Alhambra Diabetes Bike-A-Thon."

Service, Effort, Concern Characterize Clubs

Dedication and concern were exemplified by all AHS service clubs through various community and school activities. Among the services performed by the JUNIOR OPTIMIST SERVICE CLUB were the decoration of the Bank of America Rose Parade float, building of the winning homecoming float, officiating of the Los Angeles Marathon, assisting of the Foundation of the Junior Blind, and sponsoring of the Red Cross Bloodmobile. LEO SERVICE CLUB volunteered their time in assisting the Lion's Club in their annual White Cane Day Campaign, as well as the decoration of a Rose Parade float. Participating in school activities, the club ushered at various school functions, aided teachers, and served on the pick-up crew of the Christmas Committee. CAMPUS SERVICE CLUB helped the Community Youth Corps in weeding open lots, sponsored the collection of can tabs to aid in the purchase of a seeing-eye dog, made tray favors for convalescent homes during the holidays, and assisted the mentally retarded at Lincoln school in San Gabriel. During the year, the club held socials to the Campus Life Haunted House and Farrell's.

Educationals Highlight Y Club Involvement

PREXY COUNCIL is the intermediary board between the presidents of the Y clubs of Alhambra and the Inter-Club Board at the YMCA. Among their activities were the annual Y Club Inductions and the highly successful Turkey Treat. They also sponsored the Club Orientation which was titled "Somewhere Over the Rainbow There's a Y Club for You." This year LA CHANDELLE presented their seventh annual Steady Game. During the Christmas season, they spread holiday cheer by caroling at the Children's Ward and Hospital. During Easter, they took their yearly trip to the beach, and for an educational, they toured a police station. LEHUE NANI received a well-earned trip to the beach after working many hours on fund-raisers, which included several bake sales and a drawing for tickets to Magic Mountain. They improved their cultural education by visiting the Norton Simon Art Museum, and also worked with children at an orphanage. Their religious inspirational ceremony included a poem reading, and a candlelight ceremony.

Y Clubs Stress Individual Talents

LANAKILA took part in an unusual Thanksgiving educational this year. The club members were taught about preparing corn husk dolls, parchment paper, and zucchini bread. They also participated in a religious candlelight dinner during the year. The members of MA CHERE AMIE began the year with an abundance of activities. They were involved in raising money through bake sales, egg drives, crystal parties, and swap meets. Besides these fund raisers, MA CHERE AMIE also participated in various socials. Besides attending the monthly Rose Bowl swap meets, LAS KEALIAS has been occupied with other fund raisers to finance their trip to Newport Beach in April. They also traveled to Big Bear during the Winter Break for a four day vacation.

Y Clubs Experience Growth Through Sharing

MOANA KEA served the community by collecting enough can tabs to purchase a seeing-eye dog for a blind person. They also donated canned goods to the needy, and food and clothing to the Navajos. An annual Gong Show as well as an ice skate-a-thon were only part of their many fundraisers. NA HOALOHA held a Christmas reunion, a candlelight service, and visited Huntington Library. Bake sales and car washes were among their many fundraisers. The club completed many projects for the YMCA and made tray favors to donate to convalescent homes. LAULE'A sponsored a lively wake-a-thon and an international dinner which were their main fund raisers. Besides spending a weekend in the mountains, they devoted a week to religious secret sisters, and received Cardio Pulmonary Resuscitation Training.

Y Clubs Participate In Service Projects

NA ALII held their annual spaghetti dinner entitled, "The Great Spaghetti Feed" as one of their major fundraisers for the year. They also attended a party given by the children at the Cal State Diagnostic Center. To conclude the year, the club members ventured to Newport Beach during Easter Week. NANI LOA'S major educational project this year was a demonstration given by Benz and Garrett, a local salon, on hair styling. They also collected canned foods as a service project. The members gave the canned foods to a needy family. DECISIONS

ESSAY:DECISIONS

One of the major educational issues of 1978 was the highly controversial Hart Bill. In recent years, decreasing test scores strongly demonstrated the need for an extensive remedial instruction program. With this in mind, legislators promptly enacted a plan, known as the Hart Bill, that requires high school students to demonstrate minimum proficiency in reading, writing, and math abilities before they can graduate. The bill intends to upgrade the apparently declining levels of basic computation and communication skills of today's graduating high school seniors.

The bill requires local school districts throughout the state to adopt and test for minimum standards of proficiency in the three areas of reading, writing, and math by June, 1978. The period between January, 1978, to May, 1978, was strictly a planning period. During this time, a task force developed a specific outline of the actual proficiency tests, in addition to providing the framework of the system that would be used in assessing students.

Once this had been achieved, a preliminary field test was administered to students at various grade levels in order to determine the feasibility of the test. On May 2, the proposed recommendations of student and teacher committees were submitted to the Board of Education. The board strongly considered these recommendations before actually determining the system by which students should be assessed, the level of competency that must be achieved, and the actual test that would be distributed to the students. After June, 1980, no student will be allowed to graduate if he does not meet these minimum standards in reading, writing, and arithmetic. To enable districts to make assessments in these three areas, the bill requires that all students be tested at least once during the seventh through ninth grades. This preliminary testing would be useful in the early identification of those who may not meet the minimum standards of proficiency. However, these students will be given at least two more opportunities to pass the proficiency tests, and thereby achieve the minimum standards set forth by the local Board of Education. In the event that the student does not pass the assessments, a conference would be scheduled with the student, the student's parents, and the school personnel.

Remedial instruction will be provided for the student. This instruction would assist the student in achieving the prescribed school standards. Students who fail to demonstrate mastery of the basic skills will not be permitted to graduate.

Those who, in the lower grades, prove their basic skill in the three subjects would not necessarily be retested later on in their schooling.

Because each of the individual school districts is responsible for determining its own minimum standards, the minimum proficiency level throughout the state will not be uniform. Consequently, this bill will not establish a standard of proficiency on a statewide basis, but rather, it would function to upgrade local school district standards. Furthermore, the proficiency test does not isolate or describe competencies, thus teachers may have difficulty in specifically improving student weaknesses. In addition to this, students may be encouraged to achieve a minimum level of competency for the purpose of passing the proficiency test. As a result, the aim of educational instruction may then be to teach students to pass this test. Remedial instructors may ultimately "teach the test" instead of improving the basic skills that this very test is supposed to measure. Lastly, the exams could test for basic reading, writing, and arithmetic skills while ignoring various other skills equally important in other facets of society.

However, even if the Hart Bill doesn't accomplish its intentions of raising local school proficiency standards, it would still provide early identification of students lacking competence in basic skills. With the initiation of remedial studies, students would be provided with ample assistance in achieving these set standards. Finally, the examinations may be a very useful means of testing student educational abilities in a variety of conventional settings.

In any case, the implications of the Hart Bill are enormous and far-reaching. The effectiveness of the bill will certainly influence future instructional attempts to increase the basic educational skill of students. However, immediate shortterm results may not be altogether indicative of the actual value of the Hart Bill. Only after an extended period of time can the Hart Bill be genuinely evaluated in its goal of actually improving the present educational system of California.

Board Of Education

Being responsible for the entire Alhambra School District, the local Board of Education was constantly concerned with the educational affairs of eleven elementary schools and three high schools.

Members of the Board had to make crucial decisions in distributing the amount of money allotted to the school district by the government. In addition to this, the Board of Education had to initiate and establish programs already enacted in state legislation.

Principal

Principal Frank Cano began his second year as principal of AHS by making efforts to guide the newly mandated programs imposed upon AHS by the state. In addition, for the purpose of the Higher Education Incentive Program (HEIP), Principal Cano established a new branch of guidance counselors from Cal State Los Angeles to specifically aid the growing number of high school students planning to continue on to college. In these ways, Principal Cano effectively maintained the present educational system.

1) Mr. Frank R. Cano, Principal. 2) Mrs. Millie Ratkovich, Administrative Secretary. 3) Mrs. Marygayle Pergande, Intermediate Clerk.

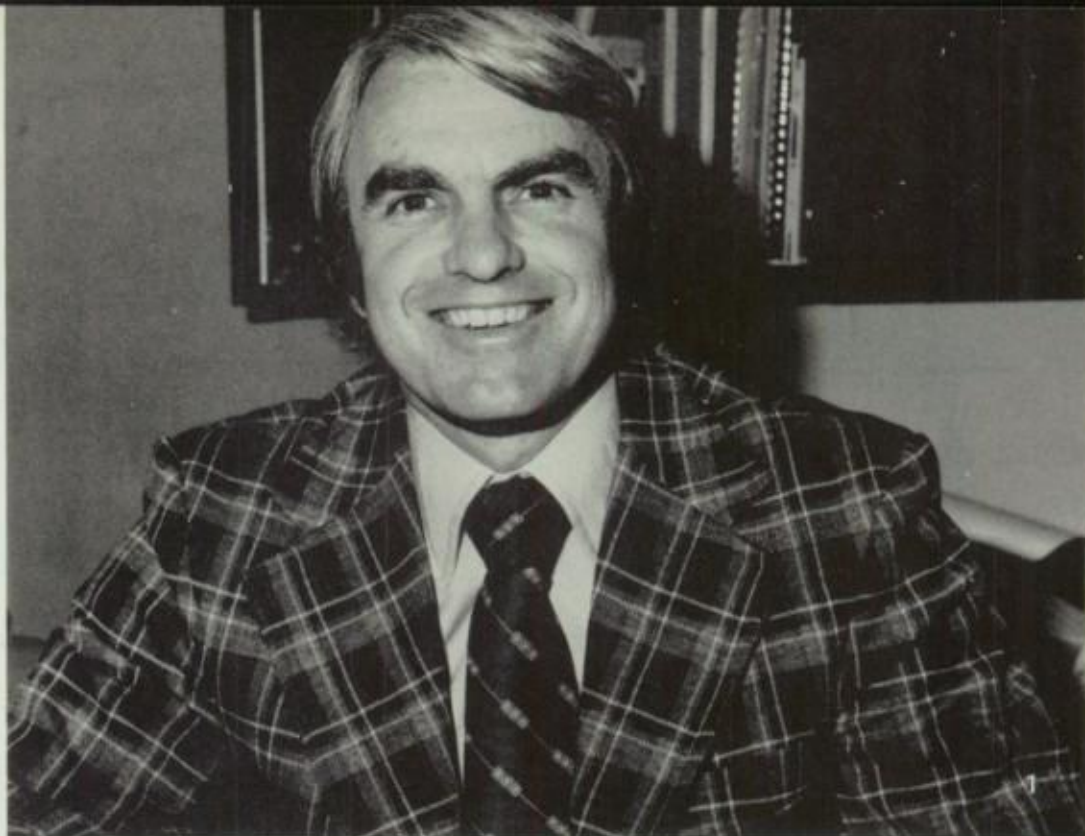

Assistant Principals Counselors

As Assistant Principal of Guidance and Pupil Personnel, Mr. Ralph Leech continued to maintain excellent student relations. He promoted the newly established "Coping With Now" class. He also improved registration procedures by allowing only those students who were not holding all their classes to pull cards. Thus, this eliminated the terrific congestion and confusion normally caused by card pulling.

Mr. Kenneth Key, Assistant Principal of Business and Activities, was responsible for all business-related affairs of AHS, as well as any extra-curricular activities of the school. He coordinated Spirit Week, Homecoming celebrations, and the various school dances. In addition to this, Mr. Key was in charge of the maintenance of school activities and was commission advisor.

Physical Education

In compliance with Title IX, the physical education department became coed. The structure of the department changed as the boys' and girls' department heads merged into co-department heads, with John Holmes managing the team sports and Joan Smith heading the individual sports.

The combination of the two departments resulted in the offering of many different activities, including such new courses as hunting-fishing, backpacking, and choreography. Students had the option of choosing their instructors and rotating sports activities in four and nine week sessions.

Speech And Drama

For the first time in recent years, the drama department produced three major all school plays instead of the usual two. This new innovation, as well as Mrs. Tarr's first directing debut in "You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown," may very well set a new trend for thespians at AHS.

With the help of this year's best varsity debate team, Susan Hoffman and Steve Kaplan, the debate team ranked tenth in the nation. The debate team successfully competed in several different speech tournaments throughout the year with many outstanding individual performances.

Drama

Different from the past three years, this year's A Capella Choir started anew with only three remaining members from previous years. Despite their inexperience, the Choir displayed much talent in all areas. At the annual Choir/Orchestra Idyllwild retreat, both groups enjoyed practicing in three days what was comparable to three week's work at school. The many hours of hard work paid off and the Orchestra, as well as the Choir, performed well throughout the year.

Art

Despite setbacks due to broken equipment and tools, the art department continued to offer such successful classes as Ceramics, Commercial Art, and Drawing and Painting. The department's popular tradition of hand-carving pumpkins at Halloween time, and other fund-raising events helped to earn money for scholarships. Something new this year was a weekly art display in the school library showcase. Some features included designs, photographs and drawings.

Industrial Arts

As a result of this year's industrial arts department placing more emphasis upon vocational training, more girls were attracted to these classes than in previous years. Also, firms from around the San Gabriel Valley employed a greater number of students because of their skills.

In addition, the VICA Club (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) continued to serve those students who found a common interest in today's industrial arts by promoting interstate and national competition.

Foreign Language

The language department continued its goal this year to interest students in foreign language studies. By offering Spanish elective courses and encouraging students to enroll in third year classes, the department hoped to concern students with the cultures of other lands. Besides studying languages in school, students could get involved in departmental language clubs and, thereby, broaden their learning outside the classroom.

Business Education

Business Education offers well-rounded courses in the areas of bookkeeping, typewriting, shorthand and office training. These classes, emphasizing vocational education, enabled students to obtain numerous jobs in various business fields. In particular, machine shorthand was one of the most desirable courses attracting many students especially interested in careers as court reporters.

Consumer Family Living

Since equality of the sexes became popular, there has been an increase in the enrollment of students in the Consumer and Family Living Courses. Students have become more aware that these classes are open to both sexes, thus resulting in a greater interest on the part of males.

A new development this year was two ESOL Consumer classes. These classes include students from such countries as Burma, Chile, China, Japan, and Vietnam.

Special Education

Teachers in this department are involved with the ESOL program (English For Speakers Of Other Languages), educationally handicapped, the Individual Studies Program, and the mentally handicapped. Some special Education classes work in the Moor Room, a student-operated restaurant, where they receive vocational training. Upon graduation, they are placed into jobs in the community.

Aural Education

Students with hearing impairments learn all academic subjects in the Aural Education department. To further benefit the student, classes such as English, Health and Safety, Mathematics, and American Government are taught both verbally and in sign language. In addition, interpreters and tutors were available to help deaf students placed in regular classes. More so than other classes, the aural education classes emphasized Adult Living Skills, such as opening bank accounts, filing tax returns, and making simple household repairs, to aid students to live on their own after high school.

Social Science

The social science department offered two new courses to aid speakers of foreign languages. These bilingual classes were U.S. History and World History.

Both classes were taught in Spanish and English by Mr. Stirdivant, and next year holds the possibility of social science classes in Chinese. In addition to U.S. History and American Government, which make up two out of three years of a social science graduation requirement, classes spanning from Classical Age to Psychology were offered to make up for the additional two semesters needed.

Mathematics

For the first time, AHS offered Computer Programming and a second year of Advanced Placement Calculus.

The popularity of a summer school class in computer programming ultimately resulted in the formation of another class during the year. Using the computer facilities at Cal State University Los Angeles, the class was offered in an attempt to keep up with today's increasing demand and growing dependence upon computers.

The Calculus class prepared second year students to take the AP Exam for advanced Calculus. With satisfactory scores, students may earn college credit.

Library

In keeping with the emerging trend of previous years, general library use increased. In order to meet the demands of 1,300 students daily, library materials were expanded to 36,000 books and 1,059 filmstrips in circulation. Classes, as well as students, were encouraged to make use of this enlargement of library materials. Also, the installment of carpeting provided additional comfort for library patrons.

English

This past year has been filled with accomplishments for the English department. Within the classroom, greater emphasis was placed on the reading and writing skills at both the ninth and tenth grade levels. The department revised the reading lab, initiating a pull-out program, which enabled students to receive more individual attention. Also, the update of courses of study and the adoption of new text books were major tasks for the department members. Because of the need for improved writing skills among ninth grade students, the department applied for an $80,000 Title IV C grant.

Career Guidance

Aiding students in job opportunities, the Career Guidance Center of AHS continued to maintain six job-related programs. Students involved in the General and Vocational Work Experience Programs received both school credit and monetary payment for their work. The FIF Teen Program obtained various jobs for those students under sixteen years of age, while the government-funded CETA Program paid underprivileged students to work at non-profit organizations. Although participants of both the ROP and Exploratory Work Experience Programs did not receive any payment, they did gain much confidence, experience and training in many skill-related areas of employment. In addition to this, since the career Guidance Center is a general source of career information, many students sought their helpful advice in counseling.

Health Office

Due to AHS having the largest enrollment of students in the school district, the health office was kept busy with constant traffic. The health office's responsibilities included checking the hearing and eyesight of all 10th grade students. Furthermore, if necessary, students were referred to various health agencies for additional care and treatment. Among the many services offered were free physical examinations for students actively involved in sports, and free pregnancy counseling.

CONFRONTATION

ESSAY: CONFRONTATION

"No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving federal financial assistance."

Six years ago, Congress passed Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972. On May 27, 1975, President Ford signed the final version of the regulations which prohibit discrimination in federally assisted education programs. Since a large portion of this country's educational system is assisted by federal funds, this legislation had far-reaching effects. Under Title IX, all students must have equal access to and participation in all educational programs as well as extracurricular activities. It prohibits admissions practices, required courses, and counselling practices whose criteria is based on sex. In short, the governing regulations of Title IX cover all aspects of sex discrimination in schools.

As a result of Title IX, some change can be noted at AHS. The most recognizable change is with in the Physical Education department.

Because Title IX specifically prohibits seperate PE classes on the basis of sex, the PE classes were placed on a co-educational system this year. The students were allowed to be seperated by sex only in cases of contact sports like wrestling, basketball, and football. Students were also allowed to be grouped by ability, even if such grouping resulted in primarily single sex groups.

Because these changes were initiated in the 1977-1978 school year, some students were mildly surprised at the time of registration by yhe change in PE policy. The remainder of the student body was greatly surprised when they reported to the gym on the first day of school. This policy change was met by various reactions from both the faculty and students.

Coach Ivy Hertz feels that, "Guys don't have the patience to perfect their skills through the repetative drills. Many guys come in already fairly skilled, so the girls have to play 'catch-up' which probably makes the activity less fun for the guys." Another PE instructor, Coach Steve Kemp, feared that coed PE classes were not working out as anticipated. "The skill level between boys and girls is wide", he said, "in many activities, boys and girls cannot compete together at the same level." As a result, many PE instructors found it necessary to segregate their classes, thus defeating the purpose of coed PE— seemingly making the classes no different than in the past.

On the other hand, there are some advantages to coed policy. Coach Karen Oaks states that, "Coed PE is a good idea since it gives the students a free choice of what and whom they can take." Coach Cam Anneke agrees, saying, "The variety and number of classes has increased this year due to the coed program. The students enjoy the classes more because they choose to be in them." Coach John Holmes commented that, "Coed PE, from a team stand point, is not for the girls. Many of the girls are not as skilled as the guys in some sports. It is difficult to grade the boys and girls in skill tests, it is even harder to handicap them. Overall, for the first year, it has gone pretty well."

Thus, the overall impression of faculty members was varied. Students also expressed mixed views on the subject.

Freshman Janice Lee feels that, "Some classes, like badminton, don't have enough guys in them." Freshman Ken Brown "wasn't expecting to have coed PE", but now that he has been in it, he would "rather have coed PE than separated classes."

Sophomore Karon Morgan thinks that coed PE is a good opportunity to "show that girls are just as skilled as guys. It also serves to bring the people of the school together—an overall better program." Kathy Kopp, a sophomore, points out that, "It's more fun to talk to more people, the experience is sometimes more embarrassing, but it is more interesting than before." But as sophomore Ron Cabrera notes, "You can't mess around or joke with the guys anymore; you have to act with more class when the girls are out there."

Sophomore Linda Patterson favored coed PE saying that coed activities tend to be "more exciting due to the greater participation of students." Marty Katzmann, a junior, believes that, "the intramural competition between boys and girls that arises in coed PE presents an atmosphere that can be beneficial later in life, it allows students to gain experience in cooperating and competing on the equal basis with the opposite sex."

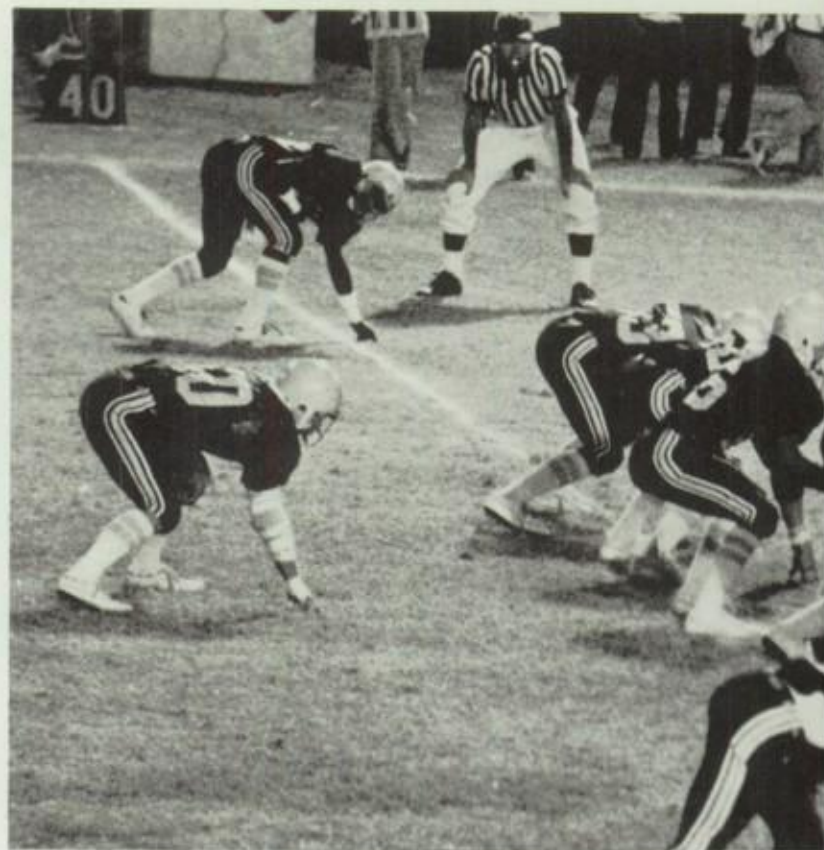

Thus the coaches and the students believe that the new program has both strengths and weaknesses. At any rate, as junior Pam Hamanaka sums up the potential of the program, "Coed PE is a step in the right direction to eliminate sex discrimination. Now that the administration has done its part, the responsibility to make it work rests upon the shoulders of the teachers and the students."

Inexperience, Injuries Hit Varsity Gridder's Season

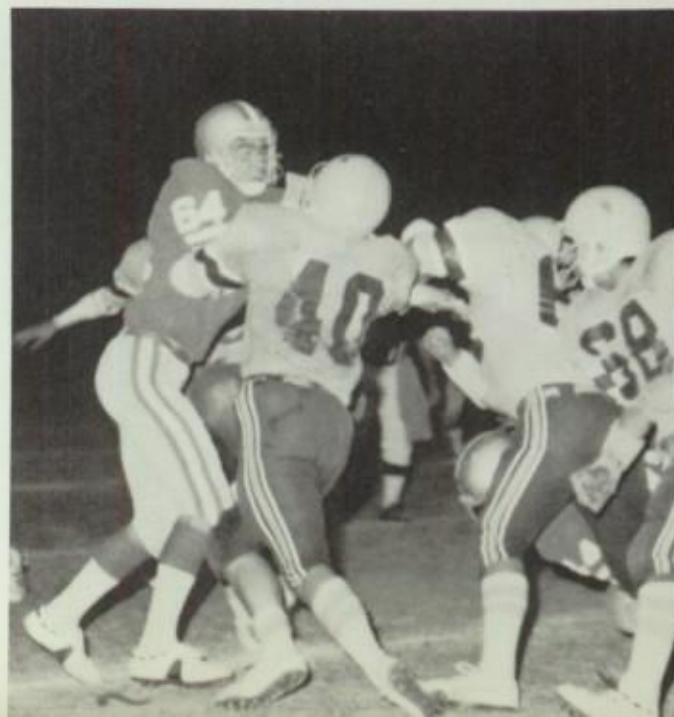

They had talent, innovation, and a desire-characteristics of a winning football team. They also had inexperience, lack of depth, injuries, and bad luck.

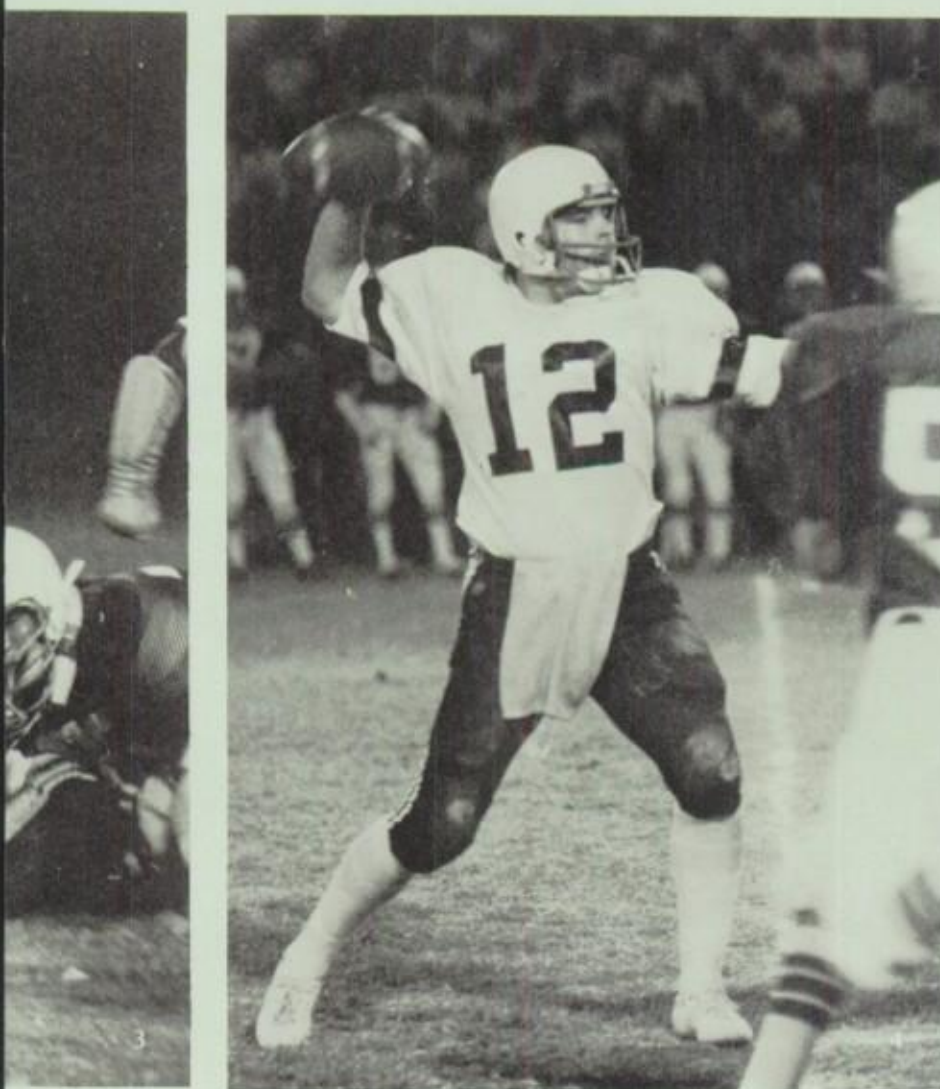

Such was the situation of the '77 varsity football squad and their season. Alhambra could have had an outstanding 7-2 record and a berth in CIF playoffs, but instead finished 3-5-1 and out of the playoffs.

The talent was there in Joe Hiti, Dave Lingrey, Alan Maestas, Tom Mahan, Stan Mendrum, John Oliverrez, Maurice Scott, Steve Vermeulen and Craig Young. Hiti and Mendrum were named to the All West San Gabriel Valley team, and with Lingrey, Oliverrez, Scott, Vermeulen and Young chosen All-Pacific League. In addition, Hiti with eighty-four unassisted tackles for the season, was selected as one of the three PL defensive players of the year, while Mendrum caught fifty-eight passes to lead the San Gabriel Valley in receptions.

- 1) Coach Art Sanchez gives his linebackers Joe Hiti and Craig Young some advice before the Muir game. 2) Moors line up in formation against Burroughs. 3) Tommy Cabrera cuts through a hole after taking the handoff from Steve Vermeulen. 4) Alan Maestas holds his ground as he looks for an open receiver. 5) Joe Hiti and Louie Trejo open a path for Tom Mahan. 6) Demonstrating his speed, Stan Mendrum eludes Muir opponents in the Rose Bowl.

Sophomores Exhibit Potential With Outstanding Victories

Sophomores showed they had the potential to produce a great football team with overwhelming victories over Mark Keppel, Crescenta Valley and Muir during the '77 season. Injuries to key players, however, prevented the Moors from taking the league title.

Against Keppel, AHS completely dominated on way to a 33-6 victory, while Crescenta Valley did not even have a chance, falling 40-0. It was the Muir game which really brought out the best in the Moors. Our of the race for the league title, they played for pride and annihilated the Mustangs 51-8.

Key players on the team were MVP Larry Nagel, Curtis McGee and Kip Tashiro.

Frosh Finish Third In Tough League Play

This year, the freshman team finished with a deceiving 2-2-1 league record as the result of untimely injuries and bad breaks. Muir and Pasadena capitalized on the mistakes to win otherwise closely contested games in Pacific League play. Quarterback Jerry Thomas' passing and Steve Munoz's clutch scoring moved the offense while the leadership of Frank Pirello on defense gave the squad a balanced attack. Coach Mike Williams commented that he had a "good team" that "worked hard all season."

Varsity Harriers Tackle Three Miles With Vigor

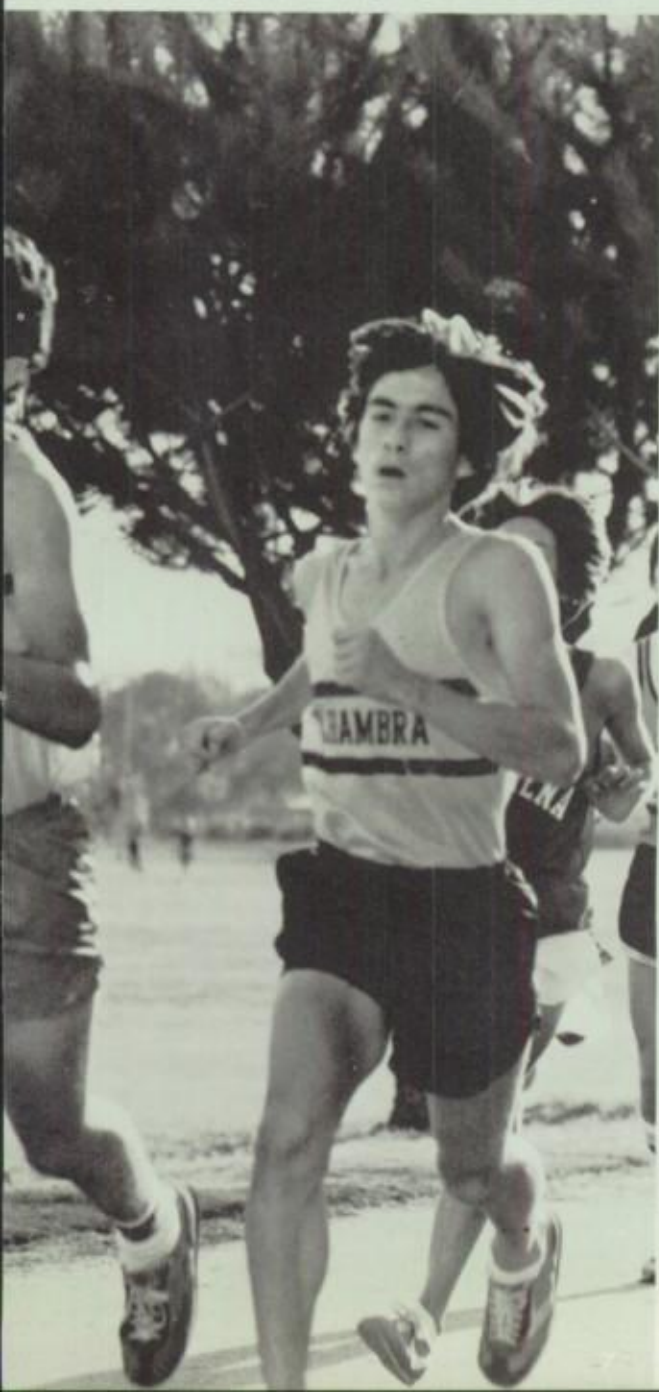

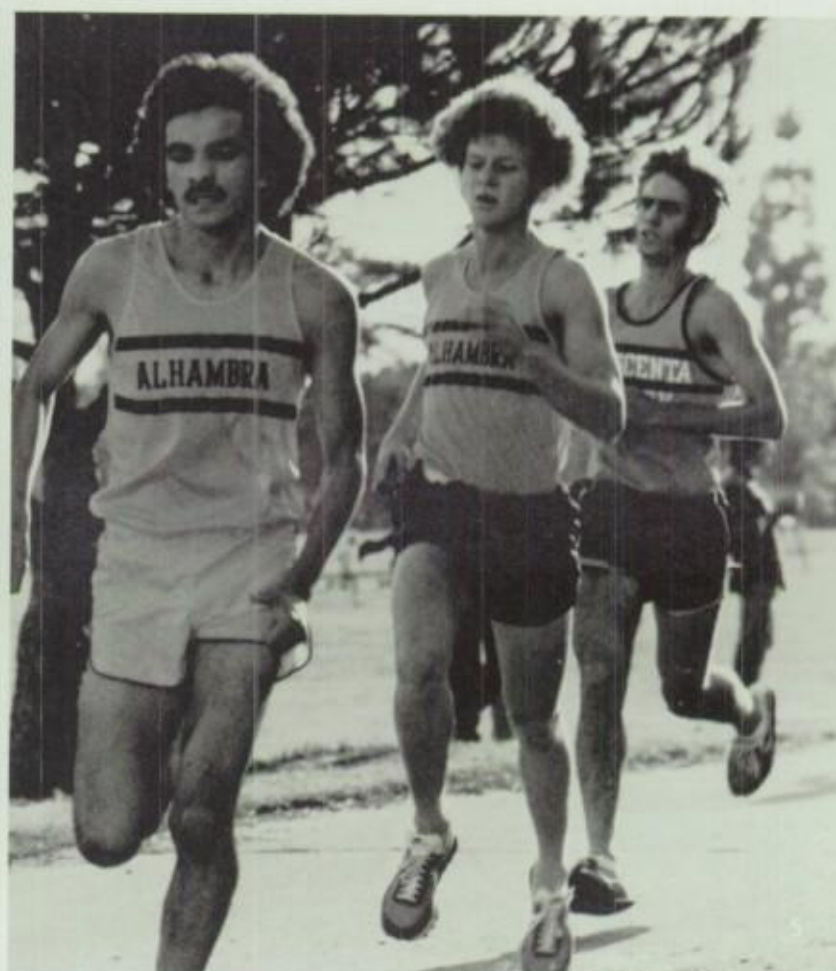

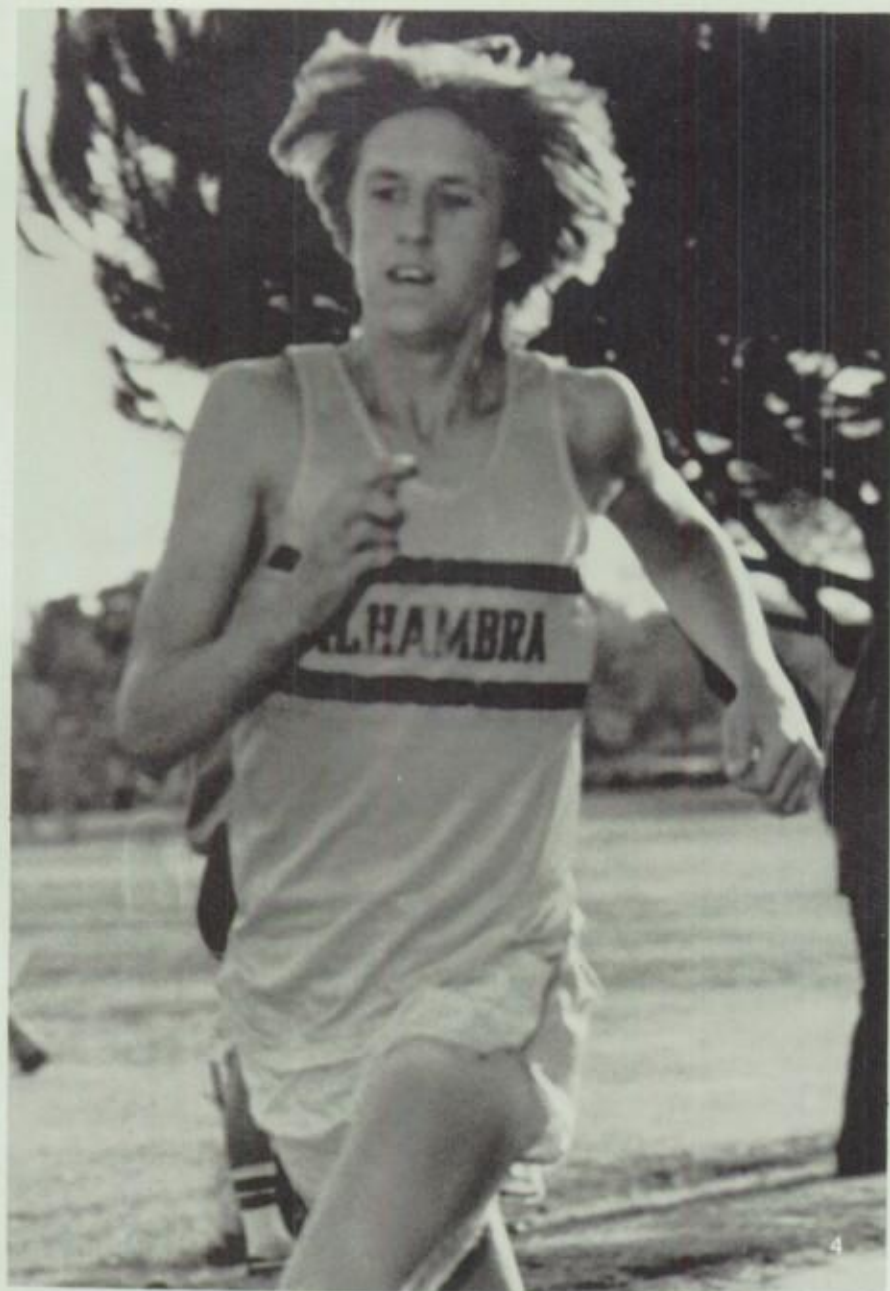

Running two miles, a tough task for most people, but a simple task for cross-country runners encouraged the CIF to lengthen all varsity cross-country races an extra mile to provide stiffer competition, a more realistic cross-country atmosphere and a new category in the record books.

Alhambra runners were all used to running eight to ten miles during workouts. Some, in fact, stated that they prefer the three-mile course over the two-mile course because the extra mile helps to prove who the better runners are.

Led by seniors Jon Freriks and Tony Pereyda, juniors Roger Lopez and Carlos Ortiz and sophomore Jerry Carmona, AHS finished second in the Pacific League behind San Gabriel and qualified for CIF prelims for the eighth straight year.

Jayvees Hit Highs, Lows In '77

Throughout most of the '77 season, the jayvee cross-country team was running unpredictably. They would bury some opponents like Warren, Temple City, Mark Keppel, and Muir, but on alternating weeks would get massacred by San Marino, Crescenta Valley, and San Gabriel.

Part of the problem was because the team had to switch from two miles to three miles and vice versa. One week they would run two miles against Warren then the following week take on San Marino for three miles. This disrupted their rhythm, thus giving them their inconsistent performances.

'Good Packing' Characterizes Winning Frosh-Soph Runners

"Good bunching" of runners, not just one or two outstanding runners, is what characterizes a great cross-country team. The frosh-soph team had such a group of runners who bunched together in packs. This gave Alhambra a strong team unity which overcame first and second place finishes by their opponents. Mark Keppel and Pasadena both took first and second in their respective races against the Moors, but AHS packed runners from third to sixteenth, and third to eleventh to win both races.

Runners Excel In League Competition

The Girls' Cross Country Team led by Janet Freriks concluded a successful season with a 6-3 record. The smallness of the team provided for much individual coaching. According to Coach Tifin Bush, the girls did well in competition considering the minimal amount of experience most of them have had. After much intense work-out and practice the girls placed third overall in the Pacific League. Janet, who received the Most Valuable Player award, excelled in competition and placed seventh in CIF. Maria Perez was awarded Most Inspirational.

New Frosh-Soph Team Opens Opportunities

An increase in the popularity of soccer in America was reflected in an overabundance of participants in jayvee and varsity soccer squad tryouts. This created a demand for another team. This demand was met by the creation of a new Frosh-Soph squad for interested ninth and tenth grade students. A unique aspect of the team was the inclusion of girls. Other boys' teams have had girls, but usually as substitute players. On this team the girls did not sit on the bench, they started. Coach Jack Adkins remarked that the girls listened better, were more patient, and passed the ball more than the boys. He also stated that in a sport like soccer, size and strength did not count as much as speed and accuracy. After a poor start in preseason and a 1-3-1 record in league, Coach Adkins decided to start the girls over the guys. The result was a better team.

Three of the female starters, Marjorie Fong, Ada Kan, and Carla Yamashiro were crucial in penetrating through opponents' defenses and setting up shots for Alhambra's top scorer, Jose Bastida. Another outstanding player was Demetra Geftakys, whose accuracy enabled her to become the first girl in the history of AHS soccer to score a goal during a game.

Kickers Trip Up Pacific League Foes

With the help of Los Angeles soccer star, Steve David, the Varsity Soccer Team greatly improved their game this season. David, a friend of Coach Ron Monsegue, assisted with the coaching and gave the Moors some professional tips.

The players incorporated his tips and improved their defensive and offensive play to become a major soccer power in the Pacific League.

The Moors' most impressive victory was against Arcadia, who were favored to capture the C.I.F. title for the second year in a row.

Much of the success of the Moors was due to the offensive teamwork of Nick and Martin Vasquez. The two brothers worked well together to set up most of Alhambra's goals. On defense, goalie Steve Aston exhibited speed and skill in blocking goals. He also received help from defensive backs, Serjio Avola, Desmond Baker, Phillipe Gonzalez and Pat Montoya.

Jayvees Encounter Close Matches

The Junior Varsity Soccer Team, although talented, had a hard time winning games. They lost games to top-rated Arcadia and San Gabriel, and tied Muir in league play which might have resulted in wins had they gotten a few breaks. One of the reasons for their losing these close matches was the fact that some of their top players alternately moved up to varsity and back down to jayvees. This created confusion in the plays when it came to crucial moments.

Denise Trapani, one of two coeds on the squad, proved to be as tough as her male counterparts and played even harder than some of them. Coach Monsegue predicts that she may be the first girl to play varsity soccer for AHS.

Other standout players include Jose Lira and Danny Castellanos who took the ball away from opposing players on offense, and Jesus Antillon, who supplied the Moors with an offensive scoring punch.

Individual Play Highlights Season

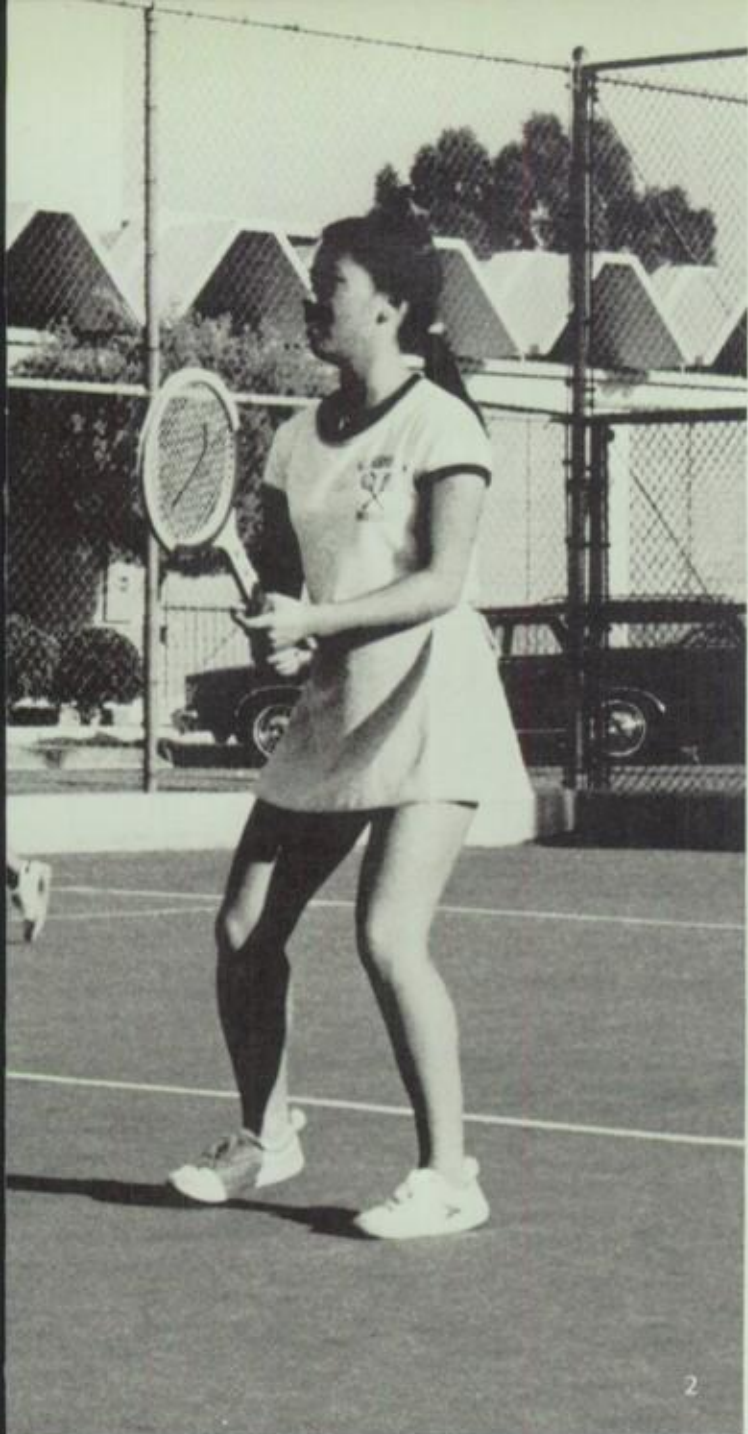

Led by Most Valuable Player, Julie Porte, the Girls' Varsity Tennis Team placed fourth in the Pacific League. Julie and the doubles team of Ingga Ong and Jean Chung placed fourth in the league finals, and each won the most points in their division. The season presented several difficult challenges, and the team concluded with a 5-5 record. Despite the new talent displayed, the girls faced a disappointing season.

The undefeated Junior Varsity Tennis Team easily surpassed their opponents and placed first in the Pacific League with a 10-0 record. Ita Ong and the doubles team of Jamie Fong and Dana Jue led the team through the season. The success of the team was attributed to the all-around strength of the individual players.

Varsity Spikers Face Competitive Year

Beginning with a scrimmage game against San Marino, the Varsity Volleyball team found themselves faced with a competitive year. Spirit and teamwork proved rewarding as the team achieved an overall record of 9 wins and 6 losses. Outstanding performances were displayed by Jane Ota chosen for the All Pacific League first team and Laura Mollinedo chosen for the All Pacific League second team. Honored with the title of "Most Improved" were Annette Gonzales and Yvette Sinclair and awarded "Most Improved Quality in Skills" was Maryann Murakami. Tying with Arcadia for second place in the Pacific League, the J.V. team concluded an outstanding season with a league record of 6 wins and 4 losses. Out of a team of 15 girls, awarded most inspirational was Carman Aguirre. Other outstanding performances were displayed by Mary Aspell, chosen "Most Improved" and Danna Widener, chosen "Best All Around."

Tough Pacific League Dampens Moor Season

Alhambra's Varsity Basketball squad found itself in a demanding situation at the beginning of the 1978 season. First; it had only one returning letterman, Craig Boatman, from last year's CIF team. Second; the Pacific League, with Crescenta Valley, Muir, and defending CIF champions, Pasadena all ranked in the top five CIF teams, was the toughest basketball league in the state. And to add to their problems, the Moors found themselves to be the League underdogs. Nevertheless, Alhambra started off its preseason optimistically. They played good team ball, tough defense, and aggressive boards to run up a 9-3 record. Once they started league play, however, the Moors could not compete. They could not stop the opponents' big men and many times were forced to take far, outside shots. Guards Joe Almendarez and George Mueller found themselves making most of the outside shots with Boatman and Larry McGee both trying to get a hand in for the rebound or tip-in. A sophomore showing great potential, Louis Cosaro added some rebounding and scoring power, but they could never get enough to win.

Jayvees Overcome Mistakes; Start Winning Streak

A slow start marked the beginning of the 1977-'78 Jayvee basketball team. After losing their first six games because of unorganized playing, the team began to settle down and play good team basketball. This change led them to victories over Muir, San Gabriel, and previously undefeated Pasadena. Coach Lowell Johnson attributed the improvement to the hard work the players put in during practice, even during their losing streak. "They never gave up," said Coach Johnson.

Two of the team members, Rick Emmett and Brad Werley, were consistent performers throughout the season. When the other players began playing up to their potential, the Moors were unbeatable.

Jon Mitcham and sophomore Dave Carpenter showed great promise for the future of the AHS team.

Sophomores Fall To PL Opponents

Disipline and team organization were two factors in the sophomore basketball season games. They kept the Moors in contention in many of their games where they faced more talented but less organized foes.

Coach Joe Petralia praised the team's excellant defense but criticized their poor shooting in league matches. The Moors' twenty to thirty percent shooting cost them many close games as they wound up with a 1-9 league record.

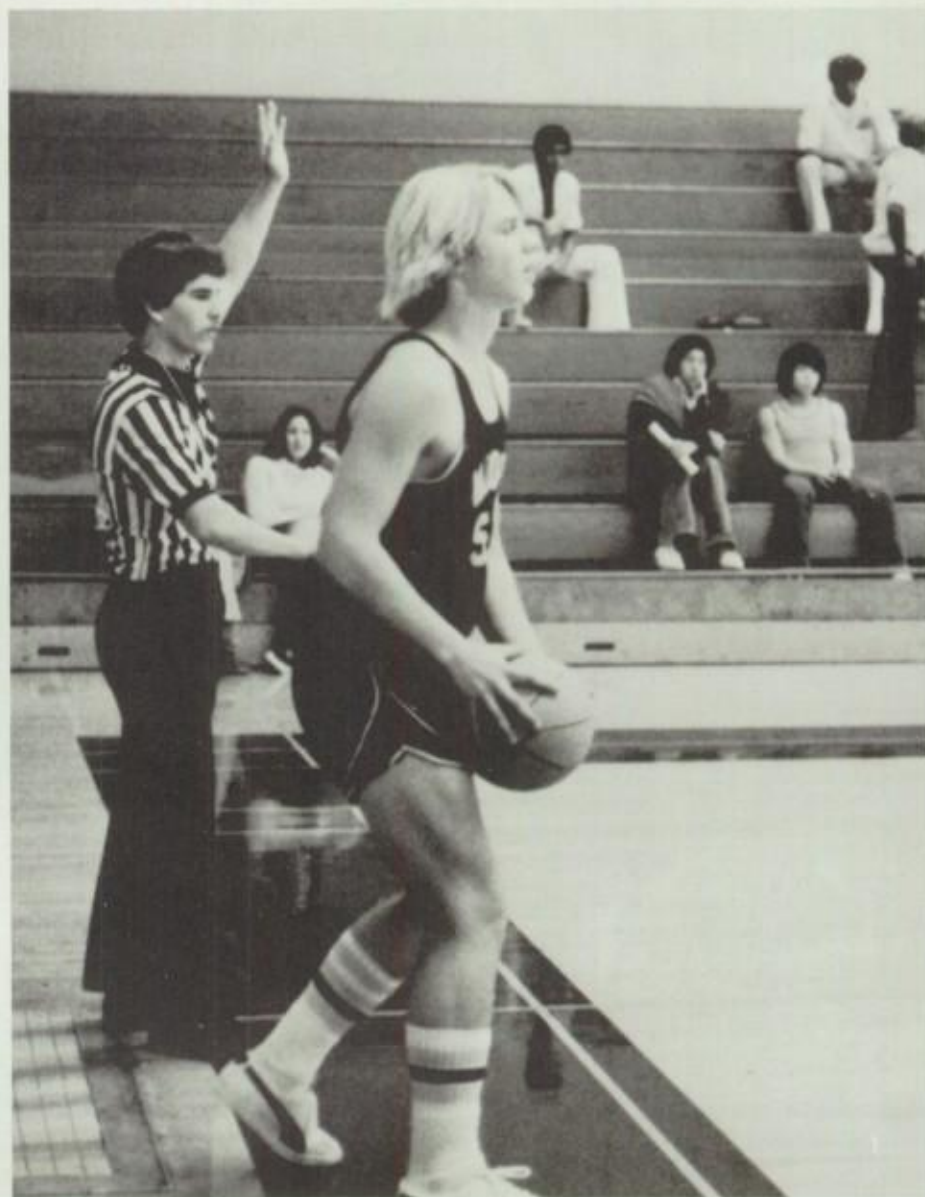

Leading scorers for the team were Derek Murakami and and Darren Verastigue. Murakami was named to the all-tournament team of the San Gabriel tournament where AHS took the consolation title.

Overall Improvement Marks Frosh Season

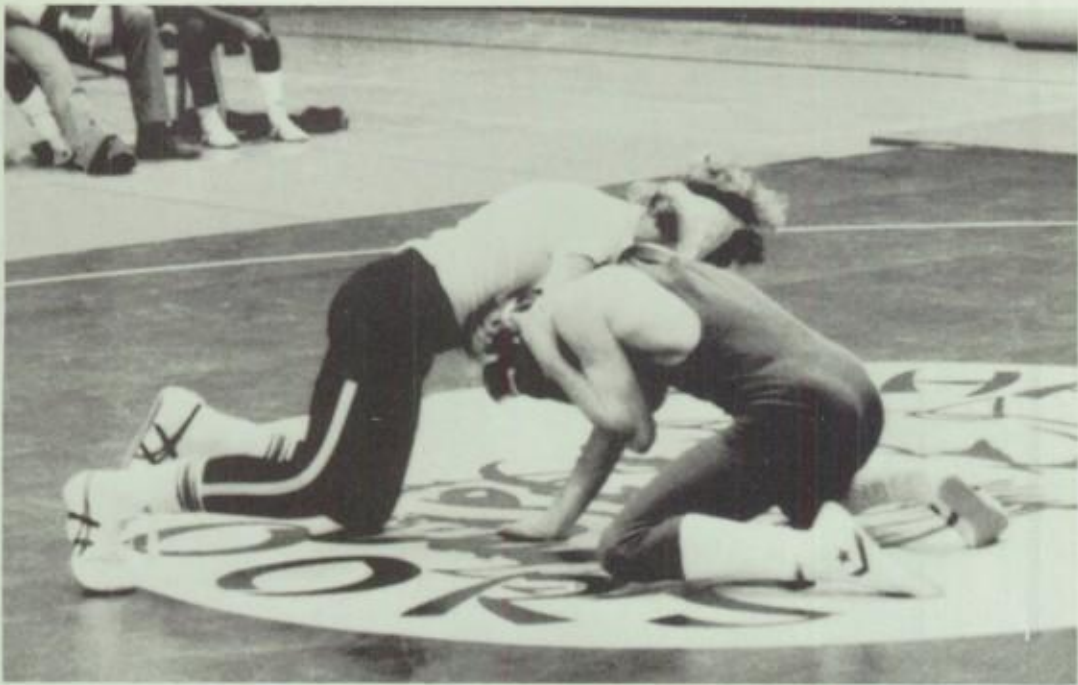

The Freshman Basketball team, coming out of the preseason with a 5-5 record, was looking towards a good year in Pacific league play. But as the season started, luck was not on their side as they lost four of their games by only one point. As the squad progressed further along in league play, Coach Steve Kneeland's team, "improved over the season." This improvement peaked on the last game of the 1977-1978 season. Dave Donhoff's rebounding and Cesar Padilla's scoring and ball handling sparked the team to a thirty point romp over opponent Arcadia.

JV Grapplers Clinch 2nd In PL

Consisting of mainly sophomores and freshmen, the Junior Varsity Wrestling team captured second place in the Pacific League. When four of the JV's had to be moved up to the Varsity, the matmen were weakened, but still battled to a 2-1 league record. Coach Mike William's team suffered a narrow two point loss to San Gabriel, which cost them a chance at the league crown. Led by Tim Tuiasosopo, Dan Fraise, and Pablo Franco, the squad should prove to be even tougher competition in the future.

Wrestlers Overwhelm Opposition In League

With a 10-2 record, eight Pacific League champions, the 1977-'78 varsity wrestling team had a sensational season. Coach Mike Williams' team had no trouble disposing of the rest of the PL teams enroute to a perfect league season, highlighted by a 37-27 triumph over last year's champions, Bishop Amat. In addition, the matmen took second place in the Alhambra Tournament and third in the Montebello Tournament.

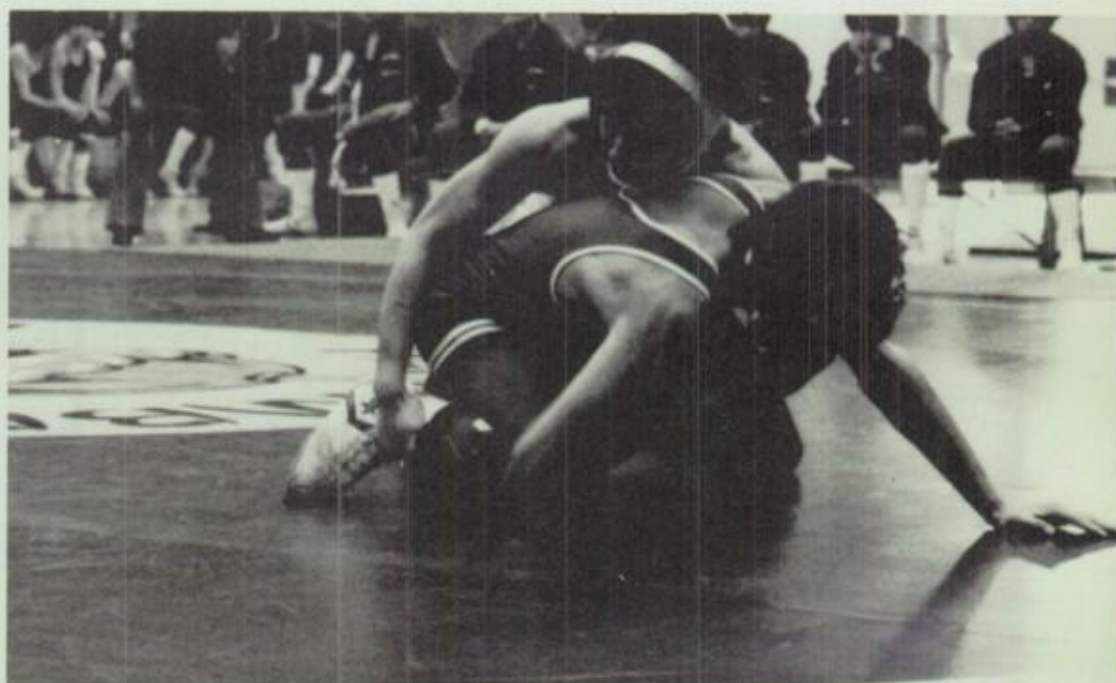

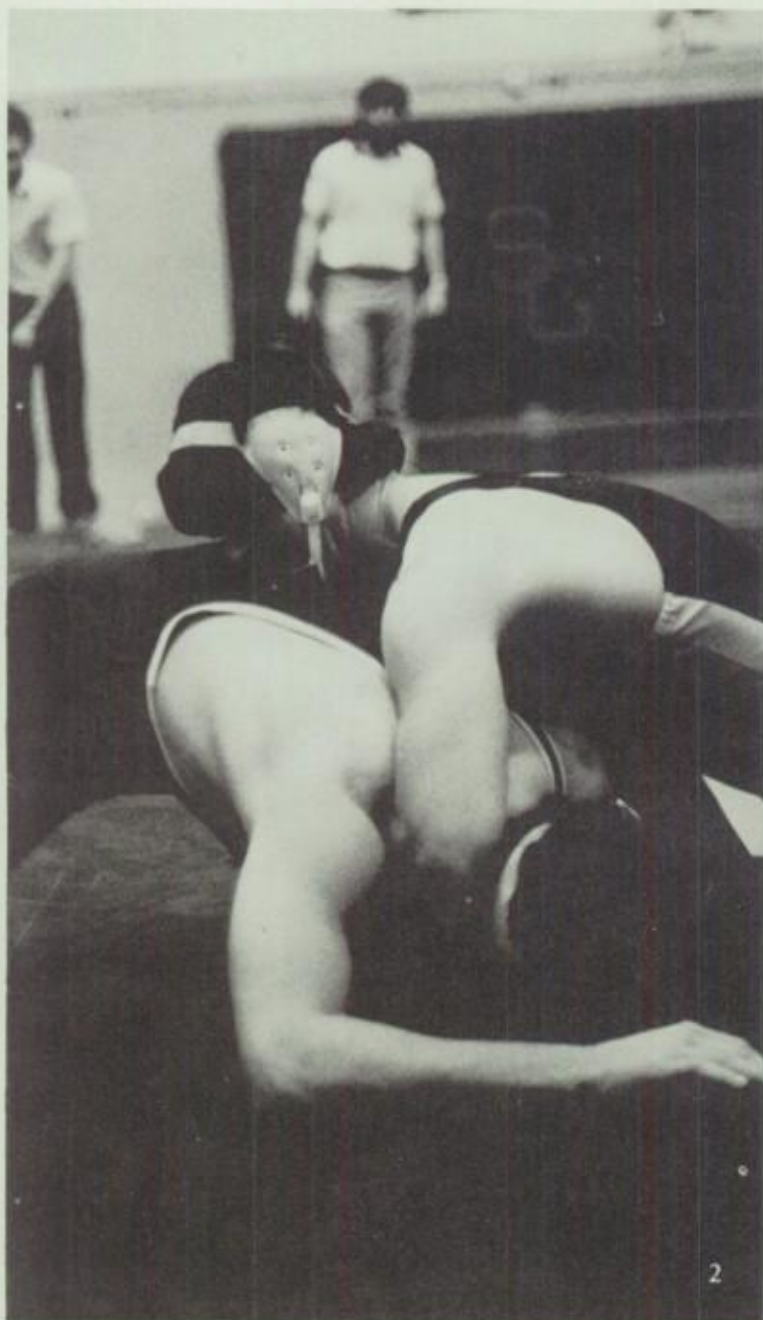

What capped the season, however, was Karl Glover, Harold Lederer, Abric Liley, Mike Pulciano, Gabe Savan, Steve Yonemura, and Craig Young all taking first place in league finals. This proved Alhambra's dominance in the Pacific League.

Glover went on to take fourth place in state finals, picking up the Most Valuable Wrestler trophy for CIF finals along the way. These accomplishments were all taken in consideration when the CIF ranked the Moors thirteenth in the final 1978 wrestling team standings.

Hoopsters Place High In League Competition

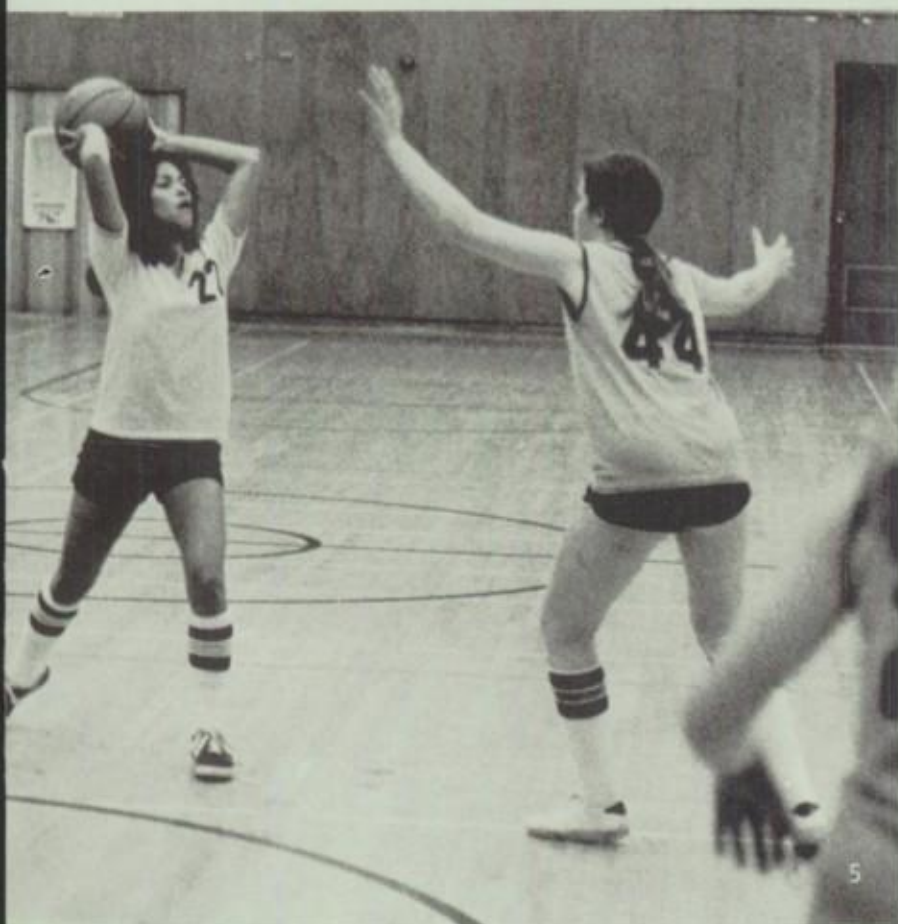

The Girls' Varsity Basketball team began slowly but concluded with a successful season. Coach Nita Ross remarked, "The team played very well and improved as the season progressed." Kelly Cardona, the Pacific League's top scorer of over 372 points, led the team to place high in their league. Kelly, an all-around player, made the third team in CIF last year. Varsity's top rebounder was Laura Mollinedo who made over 215 rebounds.

The Junior Varsity team also excelled in the Pacific League and concluded their pre-league competition with an 8-2 record. Top players included Rosanna Fernandez, who scored the most points, and Mary Aspell, who made the most rebounds. Sophomore guard Saundra Rodriguez, who made the most steals, was another important factor in the team's successful season.

Swim Team Loses Letterman, League Matches

The 1977-1978 Swimming Team saw the season start with the loss of many valuable lettermen, and the gain of a new coach, Dale London. Because there were so few athletes, the team competed as one large varsity.

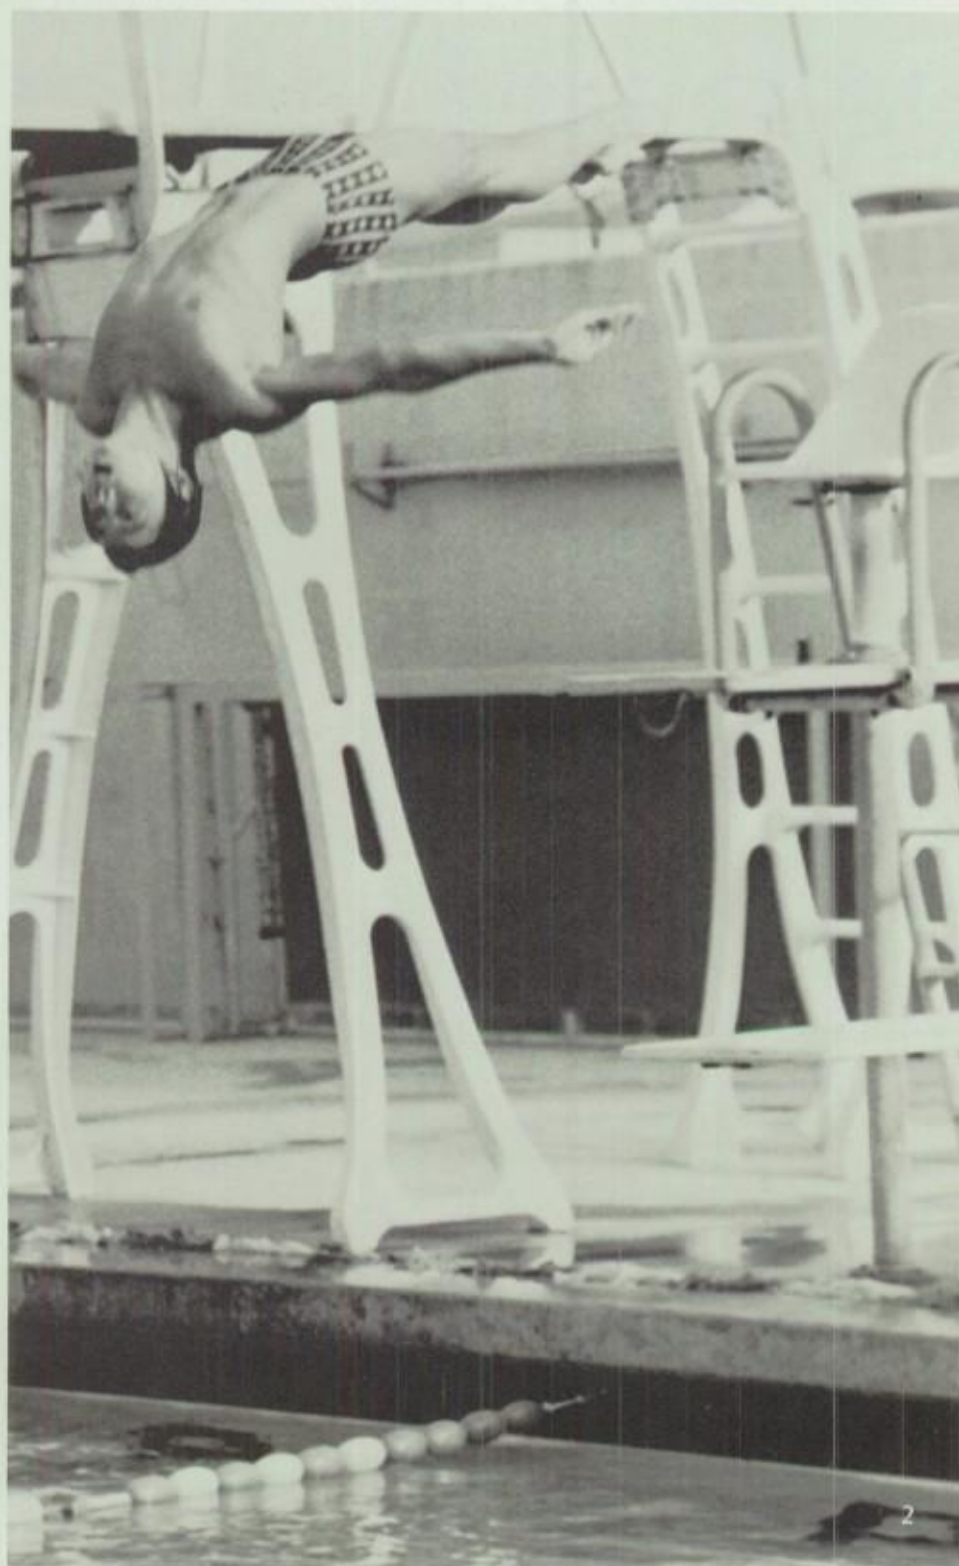

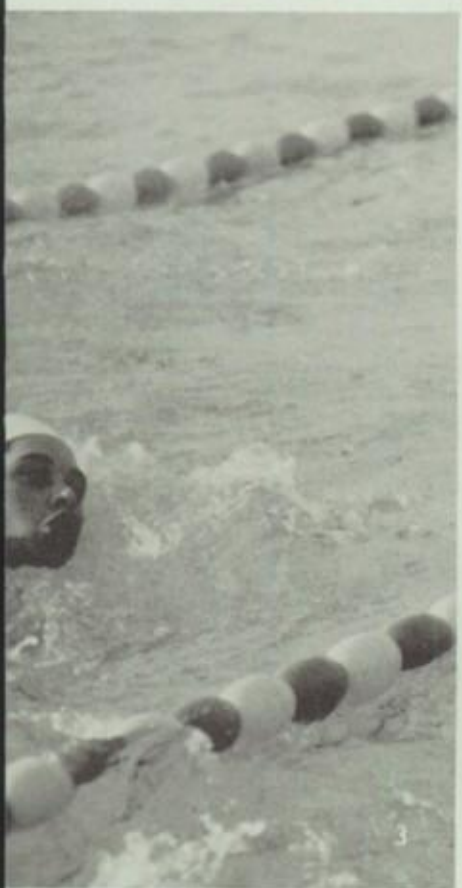

In spite of their 1-4 league record, there were many outstanding performances. The duo of Chris and Nick Bucci displayed consistency at every meet while Jon Chir performed many difficult dives.

Swimmers Face Strong Opposition In League

Completing the pre-season with a record of 0-3 and 1-2, respectively, the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads demonstrated fine talent and teamwork. Characterized by much depth and experience, both teams faced strong opposition throughout the season. Eileen Lynch, Marianne Gibbs, and Karen Stanford showed great versatility in working towards qualification in the CIF preliminaries. With such promising freshmen as Rachel Rosenthal and Sara Haines, next season's team should prove to be a top contender in the Pacific League.

Returning PL Champs Boost Varsity Tennis

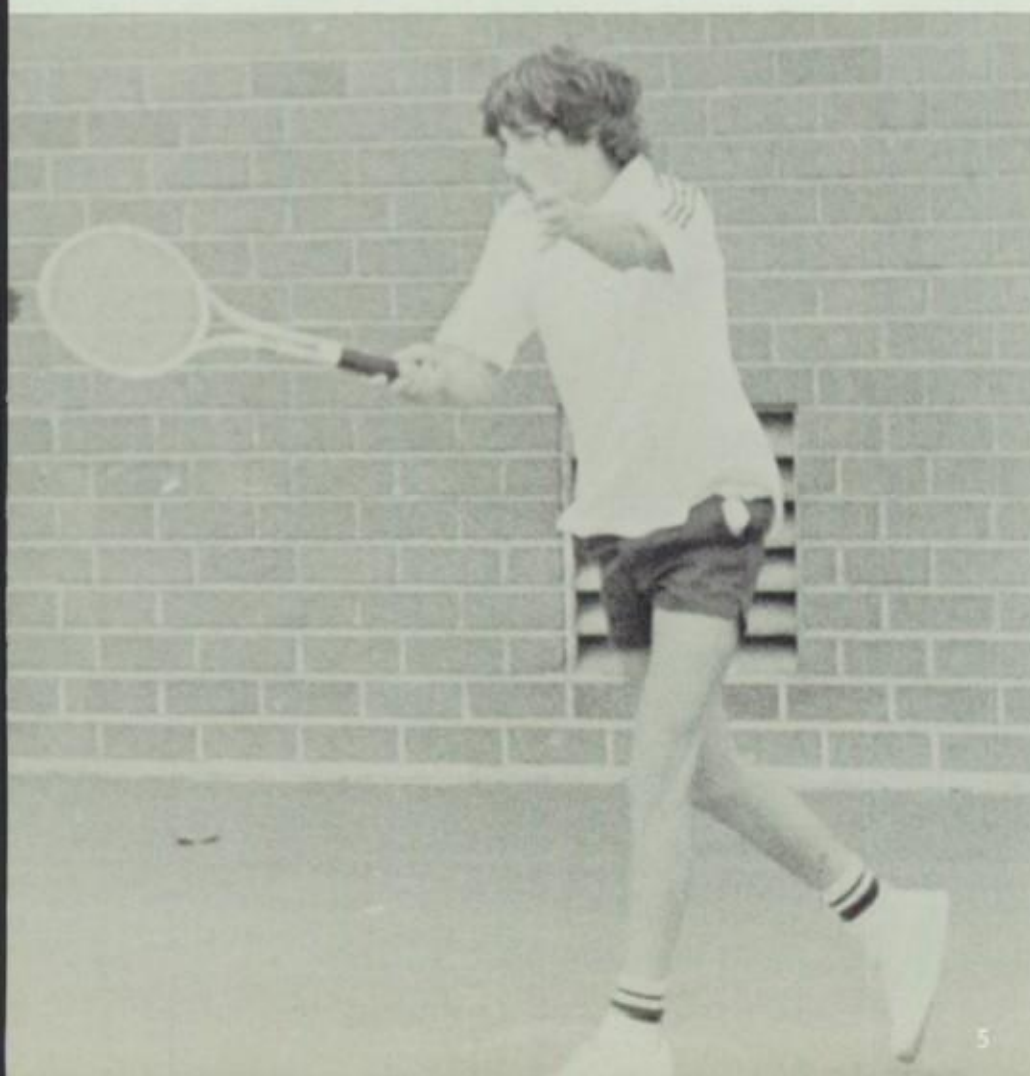

Three players from last year's Pacific League championship team, Richard Chung, John Feng, and Clayton Kong, returned this year to lead Alhambra to another winning tennis season. Feng and Kong led the singles, while the team's lucky charm, Chung, supported the doubles teams.

In addition, two brothers Andy and Mark Sanchez, Calvin Chung, and Terry Feingold also had contributions to the team's success. Since only Feng and Chung are graduating, next year will probably have an even better team to continue the Moor's tennis dynasty.

Aggressive Play Keeps J.V. In Contention

Returning from a five year coaching absence, John McCrea took the reins of the young 1977-1978 Junior Varsity Tennis team, and led them to a fine season. With most of the competition coming from Arcadia and San Gabriel, the Moors were involved in a three way struggle for the Pacific League title. Freshman Dana Kong and sophomore Russ Oshita played outstanding doubles throughout the season, while Dean Lin and Harry Cho added their fine play to the overall balance of the team.

Hard Work, Hustle Key For Netters

Hard work and practice were characteristics of the 1977-1978 Frosh-Soph Tennis team. Through a long and tedious tryout process, six players were picked to battle for the league crown. After starting out slow, the squad improved over the course of the season. Led by Jon Jue and Dave Okuno, the Moors had an excellent season, and will prove to be tough competition in the future.

Talented Trackmen Score Victories

The departure of many of last year's top track athletes left doubt about the potential of this year's team. However, the Moors shattered these doubts with early preseason victories over Whittier and Mountain View high schools.

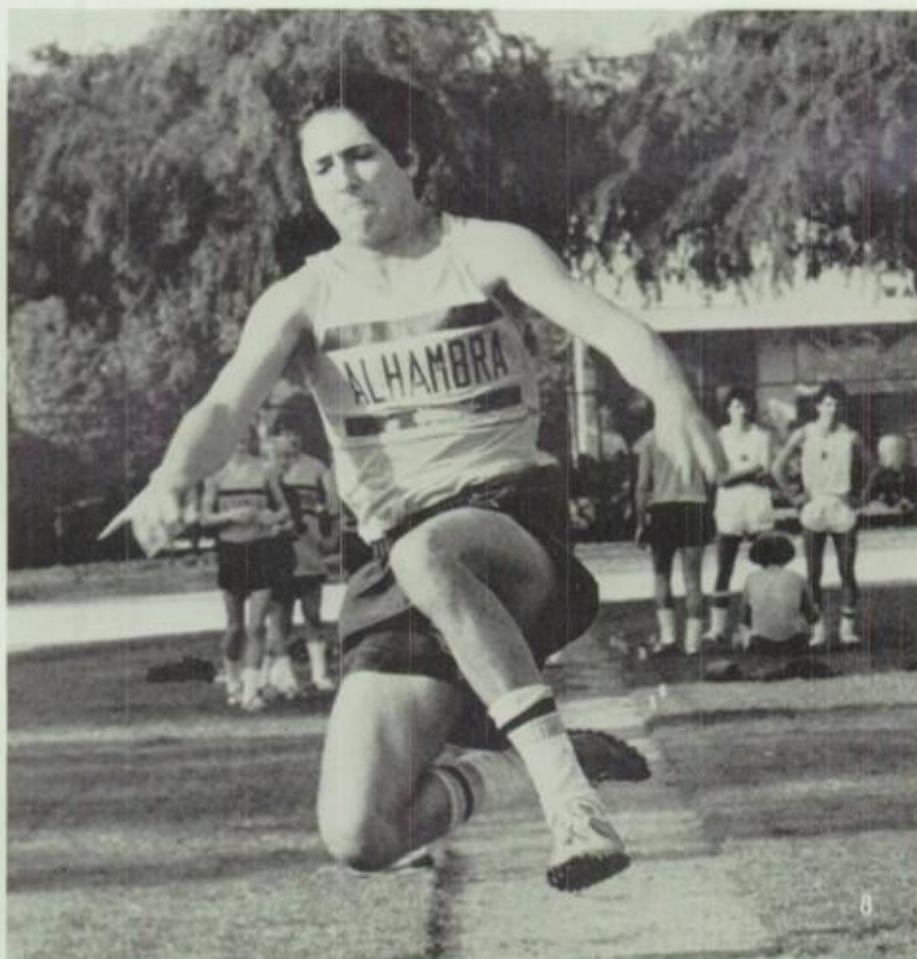

With top field man Tony Sciarra dominating the pole vault, high jump, long jump, triple jump, and even the high hurdles competition, the Moors racked up points in the field events. Juniors Rich Baldwin and Jon Aranita provided quickness in sprints while Tony Pereyda, Carlos Ortiz, and Roger Lopez added endurance in the distances.

Other Moors who contributed to the team's victories were Jamie Alterman, Kevin Jones and sophomore Jerry Carmona.

Track Teams Rely On Diversity, Rookies

Alhambra's Jayvee track team was short on man-power and had to rely on the diversity of its members and some newcomers. Once the runners were used to competing in more than one event, they demolished their opposition. Mountain View was one such victim of the Moors, Losing 105-20 in preseason.

The Frosh Soph Team had a lot of raw talent which Coaches Tif Bush and Jimmy Andrews had to mold into a winning team. Jeff Waters starred for the Moors in the hurdles and jumping events, while Julius Gee ran the 440, 880, and anchored the team to victories in the mile relay.

1) Moor sprinters spring into motion at the sound of the starting gun. 2) Frosh-soph's leading hurdler, Jeff Waters, flies over any obstacle. 3) Making a perfect handoff, Jeff Collins reaches behind his back to take the baton from George Diaz in the 440 relay. 4) Vince Hoard starts his kick around the last 110 yards of the race. 5) Abel Curup and Julius Gee chase a Schurr Spartan in the 440. 6) Alhambra's Benjy Venti has a narrow lead over his opponent on the second leg of the 440 relay.

Powerful Hitting, Weak Pitching

Mark Moors' Seesaw Season

Alhambra's Varsity Baseball Team kicked off the 1978 league season by bombarding the Crescenta Valley Falcons 5-0, and 9-3. Last year, the Falcons were the only team AHS had trouble with, losing both their matches.

Their early wins set the pace for the Moors. Consistent good hitting by pitcher Larry McGee and shortstop Mike Meyer plus the number of bases they stole sparked the rest of the team on the offensive attack. With Alan Maestas at third, Tom Tkach at second and Uly Aguirre on first base, the Moors fielded one of the league's best infields. They also had the leagues best pitcher in Steve Schaefer, who was being actively recruited by major colleges and professional teams. However, Schaefer was not eligible to play for the Moors because of academic problems.

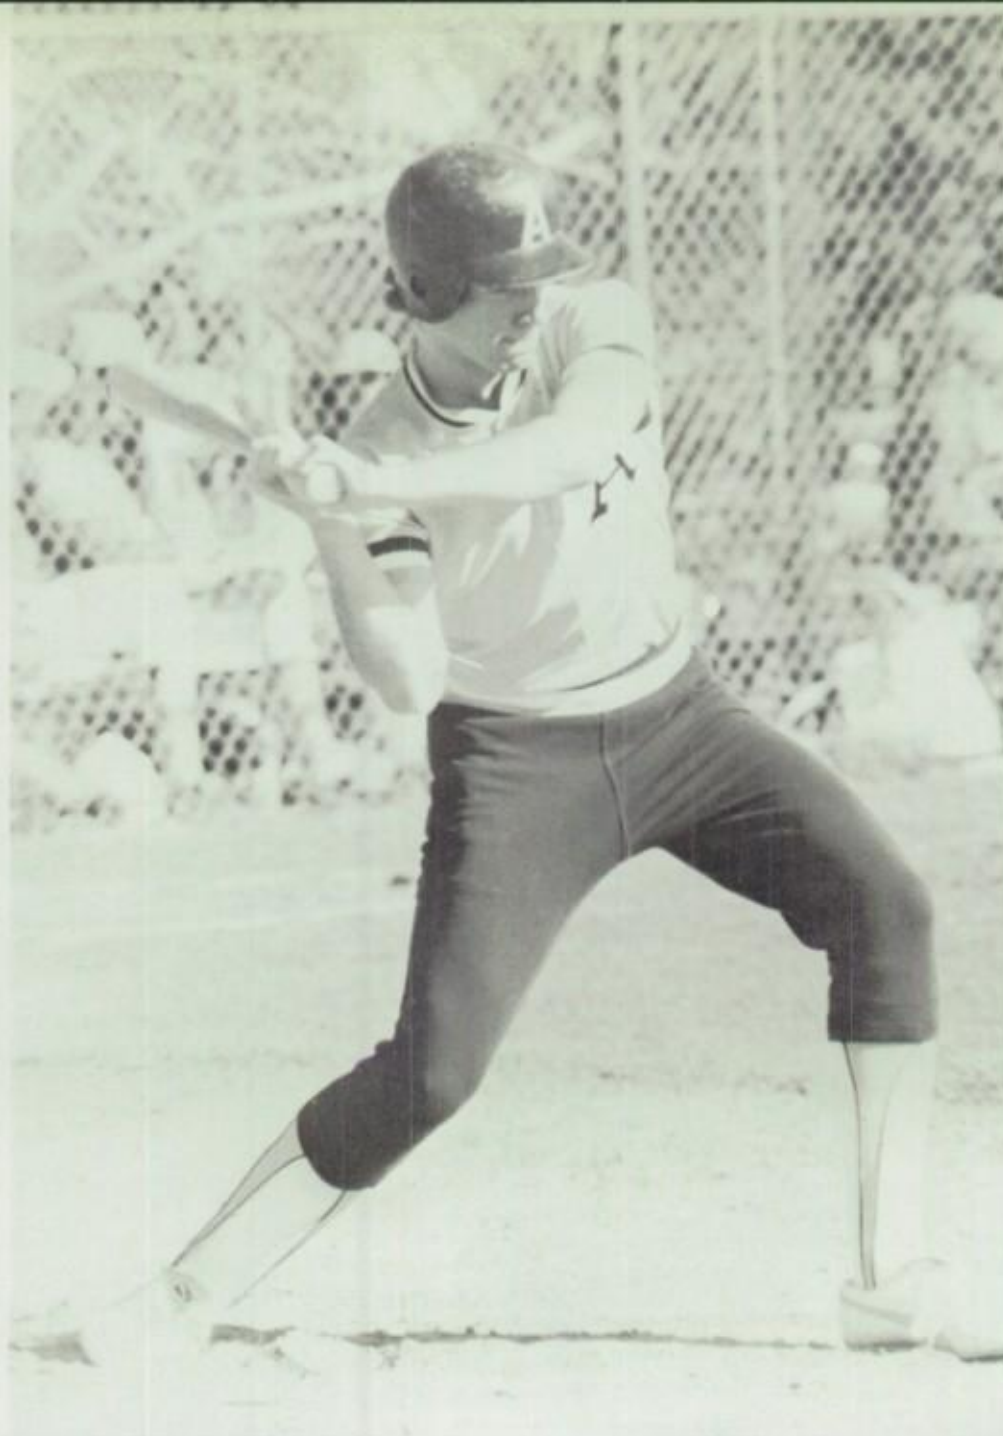

The pitching load was placed by Coach Emmett Menasco on McGee, who pitched well when he was rested, but could not last for two games in a row. Opposing hitters were merciless to Alhambra's weak pitching and cut loose on any pitch they could connect for hits.

VARSITY BASEBALL Front Row: M. Scott, D. Luneke, S. Chavez, M. Luchetta, R. Jenkins, M. Meyer, D. Williams. Row 2: C. Boatman, S. Vermeulen, A. Maestas, L. McGee, T. Tkach, C. Rinard.

1) After making the play at first, Ulises Aguirre relays the ball around the bases. 2) One of the team's top hitters, Larry McGee prepares to knock the ball out of the field. 3) Alan Maestas loosens up in the batting circle. 4) Hoping for a hit, Chuck Rinard takes a strike instead, as he misses a swipe at the pitch. 5) Relief pitcher Mike Meyer winds up on the mound.

Underclassmen Boost JV, Frosh-Soph Squads

Alhambra's young and inexperienced Jayvee Baseball Team was impressive during their preseason games, beating both Whittier and San Marino. Half the team were underclassmen and their inexperience showed when it came to league play. Their competitiveness, however, helped them to put up a good fight in each of their battles.

The Frosh Soph Baseball Squad, under the helm of Coach Art Sanchez, produced some of the best freshmen AHS has ever had. With the pitching of Victor Sanchez and the explosive batting of Kyle Miyatake and Joe Soltero, the team was even able to beat the jayvees in a scrimmage.

JAYVEE BASEBALL Front Row: J. Torrez, R. Plus, R. Powers, M. Guzman, F. DeFazio, D. Castellanos. Row 2: D. Diaz, T. Jones, B. White, D. Maestas, N. Velasco, J. Thomas, V. Cuda, J. Puncel

1) Juan Garcia completes an easy out at first. 2) After fielding a grounder, Gary Kasper throws the ball to first.

FROSH SOPH BASEBALL Front Row: V. Sanchez, M. Kim, J. Soltero, R. Bodeman, D. Jones, F. Farwell, K. Miyatake. Row 2: L. Miyatake, D. Aguirre, D. Schumann, K. Paulsen, R. Brambila, J. Lopez, J. Harrison, G. Kasper, J. Garcia.

Sprinters Hold Strong Motivation For Perfection

Fielding a team for the first time in three years, the 1977-1978 Girls' Track Team won their first meet over Schurr, 53-47. Led by sophomores Janet Freriks in the mile, Jill Freriks in the 880, and Susie Radtke in the sprints, and Freshman Virginia Ruggles in the 440, AHS' young team, coached by Mike Zinn, performed exceptionally well this year. The girls, mostly freshman and sophomores, hold promise for a strong team in the future.

1) Carla Yamashiro leaps across the finish line capturing another AHS victory. 2) Jill Freriks puts on an extra burst of speed in an attempt to overtake a Schurr runner. 3) With a look of intense concentration and determination, Donna Cade clears another hurdle. 4) GIRLS' TRACK Front Row: D. Cade, L. Loya, C. Ling, S. Radtke, N. Strachan, J. Jones, J. Davis, M. Fong, D. Olivares, J. Freriks. Row 2: D. Matsuoka, G. Yee, A. Kan, C. Yamashiro, C. Grande, D. Nava, M. Monroy, S. Balles, S. Curup, J. Gonzales, J. Duke. Row 3: Coach Zinn, V. Ruggles, L. Chu, M. Bato, K. Lee, C. Schueneman, C. Dong, N. Pauly, J. Apperson, J. Freriks, M. Perez, Coach San Miguel.

Swat Team Combats Pacific League Foes

For the first time in the history of AHS, the Girls' Badminton team participated in Pacific League competition. The team was formed at the end of last year, and played during the summer in round-robin tournaments. Although the girls lacked the experience the other schools had, they showed much enthusiasm and improvement. Most of the team members were freshmen and sophomores who will be returning to compete next year.

1) Elia Rivadeneyra watches the birdie as she makes a backhand return. 2) Janet Shum executes an overhead smash. 3) Carolyn Lee stretches to make a return to her opponents. 4) GIRLS' BADMINTON Front Row (L to R): K. Lee, E. Rivadeneyra, J. Tse, C. Lee, L. Yow, L. Arakaki, E. Lau, K. Nakama; Row 2 (L to R): M. Han, S. Okamoto, L. Donovan, M. Tsai, S. Liu, J. Shum, D. Fu, S. Fung, W. Chen; Row 3 (L to R): Coach Gaskill, M. Noble, A. Busch, V. Webster, D. Straub, R. Fernandez, P. Jong, K. Silva, A. Lim, Coach Richie.

Gymnast's Season Radiates Enthusiasm

The enthusiasm radiated by the 1978 Girls' Gymnastics team carried throughout the season. Although the team was young, Coach Debbie Wahler felt that many members were promising. With returning gymnasts Teri Jue, Lindy Yow, Alexis Ignatieff, and Kathy Maisnik, the team demonstrated both individual talents as well as strong teamwork.

1) Lillian Fukumitsu displays perfect form for a jumpstraddle on the parallel bars. 2) Team members practice the back walk-over. 3) GIRLS' GYMNASTICS Front Row: T. Jue, L. Yow; Row 2: K. Maisnik, S. Parent, A. Sloan, S. Kakita, D. Garcia; Row 3: L. Torres, E. Koga, M. Yasuda, E. Cordova, L. Fukumitsu, K. Martinez; Row 4: M. Middlemore, A. Ignatieff, B. Thomas, L. Conway, N. Parent, J. Withers, C. Davila 4) Teri Jue performs a scale on the balance beam with grace.

Collegiate Star Refines Moors Gymnastic Team

In one day, the prospects of the Alhambra Gymnastics Team jumped from poor to that of a league contender.

This sudden change in outlook occurred when faculty advisor August Felando was able to recruit Cal State Long Beach Gymnast Carl Cruz as the new coach of the Moors.

Cruz, an NCAA finalist, transformed the raw potential of the AHS squad into a team of finesse. His experience as an all-around gymnast enabled him to drill the Moors in exercises in the six events, as well as teaching them new moves.

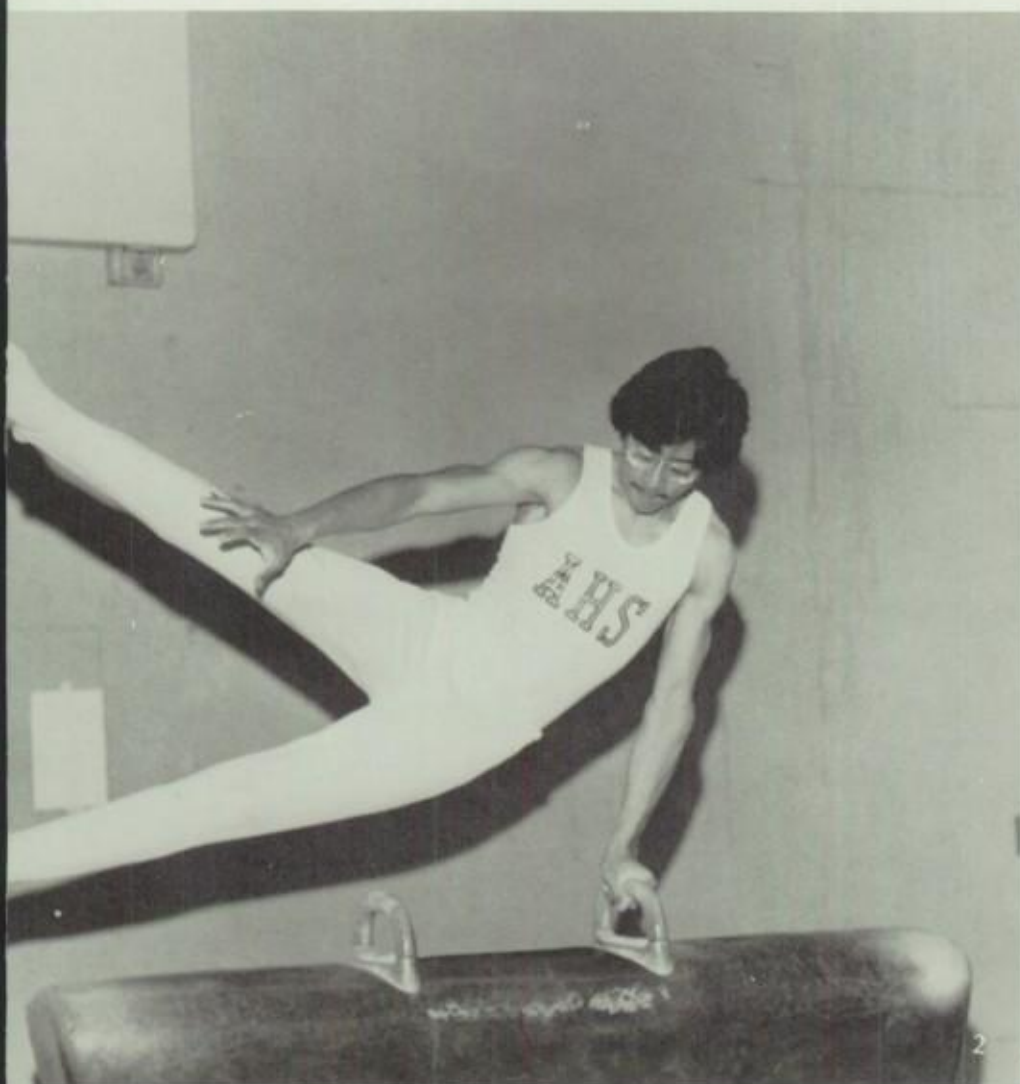

The top team members with whom Cruz worked were Jim Acuna, Earl Gee, Paul Herek, Earl Jew, Bill Richcreek and side horse star Les Yee who placed fourth in the San Gabriel Invitational. Cruz described the Gymnastics program at AHS as, "The most impressive program I have seen."

VARSITY GYMNASTICS Front Row: J. Acuna, D. Yamashiro, D. Valadez, J. Castillo, B. Richcreek, M. Burke, M. Vasquez, M. Friere, P. Herek. Row 2: W. Campbell, C. Yamashiro, E. Jew, E. Gee, J. Almendarez, K. Sarutari, W. Cabriaes. Row 3: D. Lim, M. Deguchi, B. Eng, L. Yee, D. Su, Coach Cruz. Row 4: Coach Felando, M. Baca, T. Trevino.

1) Using his strength, Wayne Campbell holds a "V" position on the parallel bars. 2) Timing and balance are crucial to the gymnast as Earl Gee demonstrates on the pommel horse. 3) Earl Jew stretches his ligaments with a split move. 4) An "L" on the parallel bars is performed by team captain Paul Herek. 5) Jim Acuna shows off his flexibility in the floor exercises.

Senior Individuals Highlight Golf Season

Despite the early preseason rains which kept the team from practicing, AHS varsity golfers still did quite well in league and tournament play. Two seniors, Eric Johnson and Randy Shew, placed in the top five of the Tri-City Tournament between Alhambra, Mark Keppel and San Gabriel high schools.

It was a rebuilding year, however, for second year coach John Holmes. He had two juniors, Glenn Fukuma and Stan Matsumoto, and one sophomore, Emily Yanagi, on the squad. With the several promising freshmen trying out for the team this year, Coach Holmes has a good chance to take the league title next year and for a few more years to come.

Freshmen Provide New Talent For JV

The Jayvee Golf Team won their first two matches against Pasadena and Muir. So what else is new? Three freshmen were on the team, that's what's new.

The three, John Lew, Ed McGeehee, and Glenn Yanagi, more than held their own against their older teammates and opposition.

Seniors Mike Tortomasi and Bill Vukanovich provided the team with the experience the freshmen lacked, thereby creating a balanced squad.

JUNIOR VARSITY GOLF: G. Yanagi, M. Tortomasi, E. McGeehee, B. Vukanovich, B. Rogers, J. Lew.

1) Striving for accuracy rather than distance, Randy Shew uses a chip shot. 2) Stan Matsumoto looks dissatisfied with his swing. 3) Emily Yanagi demonstrates that practice makes perfect. 4) Rick Moore rips his shot down the range. 5) Eric Johnson concentrates on his follow through.

Hiders Display Fielding Talents

Despite a limited amount of time to practice, the Varsity Softball team fared well through the season. There were several returning players from last year, including CIF short-stop Kelly Cardona, and All-Pacific League first baseman Janet Howell. Because of these gifted athletes and other members, the team was expected to place high in league competition.

The J.V. squad also had a very promising season. The team benefited from the tough competition in league play. Although most of the girls were freshmen, much talent and enthusiasm was displayed.

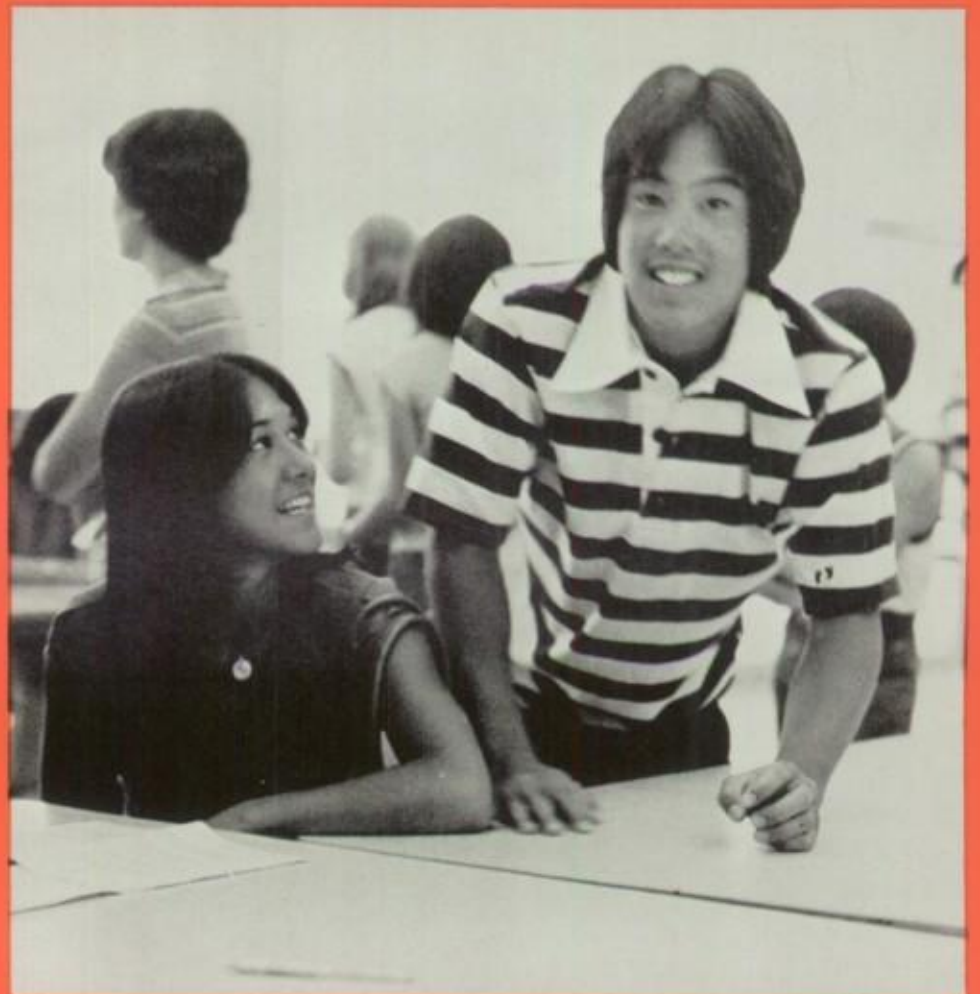

1) Avoiding Rosemead's catcher, Chris Hardaker slides for home plate. 2) Annette Gonzales displays good form as she practices her pitches. 3) Moor shortstop skillfully catches fly ball. 4) JUNIOR VARSITY SOFTBALL Front Row: V. Aloï, A. Ramirez, B. Gutierrez Row 2: D. Sanchez, T. Verdugo, L. Nagano, L. Gonzalez. 5) Debbie Preciado lines a double to left field. 6) Moor hider expresses determination as she dashes to first base.

INDIVIDUALITY

ESSAY: INDIVIDUALITY

The other day I was driving home, and I saw a sign by the road. It said "School Crossing". No, it couldn't be. Could it?

I could not ignore this. I stopped and waited, carefully watching the road by the sign. I stayed there for two, three, four hours. Nothing happened. I gave up and went home, still wondering if schools really crossed there.

Only now do I realize that we are the ones who cross here. This is high school — four years of growing and learning and defining ourselves, preparing for the time we each must leave this place we call home and recognize our individual identities. High school is a turning point, a crossroads. Above all, high school is a crazy, exciting, chaotic, vital adventure which few of us will ever forget.

We will not forget the late nights spent studying. We will not forget the agony of finals. And we will not forget the friends, the joy, and the laughter that made it all worthwhile.

We will remember card pulling, when we were last in the lottery; and the only class left was "Introduction to Basic Geography". And the counselors who said, "Yes, it looks like you have all your graduation requirements", but didn't tell us that that was all we had. We will remember our first shower in gym, when the towels were so small and everybody was staring. We will remember those fateful Septembers when the summers were over and school was a reality once again. We will remember the Friday nights, and eating pizza and hot fudge sundaes after the game. And never ending piles of college applications. We will remember running to catch the buses. And throwing pennies at freshmen. And hanging out on Second Street. And doing homework in the library before school. We will remember the food in the cafeteria. And the teachers who didn't believe that dogs really do eat homework assignments. And the attendance office where the forged notes were less convincing than we had hoped. And the assemblies. And the shared lockers. And the crowded hallways. And the minimum days and extended lunches. And the rainy Mondays.

Yes, high school. These are the days and we are the people. We are young, vital, full of life and dreams and joy.

We are individuals. Thirty-one hundred individuals who have come together to form what is Alhambra High School. Each student brings his own unique perspective, and this creates a diverse and exciting student body. Alhambra is an alive, breathing, dynamic, exciting environment. It is in this environment that we spend four years of our lives - growing, learning, and sharing. These years represent a crossroads. We live and thrive in this place we call home, knowing that someday we will leave and define our own identities in society.

We are the people. We are young, and beautiful, and full of dreams. Valerie is going to be a great artist. Paul is going to be a great architect. Bill is going to be a great writer. Cindy is going to be a great actress. We are certain of these things.

Young, vital, alive. We believe, and that in itself is beauty. We are uncorrupted in our dreams. We are the people. The dreamers. The lovers. The poets.

Frosh Invade AHS

Inspired by the great success of their eggdrive, the year began on a profitable note for the Freshman Council. The Council executed many fund raisers, including a bake sale and a joint dance with the Sophomore class. With a ring toss booth, the freshman students actively participated in the Homecoming festivities and picnics. Enthusiastic advisors, Mrs. McNichols and Mrs. Martin made this welcoming year for the Freshman Council. Front Row: Christine Lee, Publicity; Wesley Tom, President; Margaret Yasuda, Vice President; Back Row: Mandy Lam, Recruiting; Ellen Koga, Historian; Lisa Nagano, Secretary; Janet Yamamoto, Treasurer.

Enthusiastic Sophomores Uphold Moor Spirit

Sophomore Council began the new year with an abundance of pep and enthusiasm. Successful bake sales, carnation and sucker sales were some of their many fundraisers. They also sponsored booths at the Christmas Fair, Homecoming Picnic, and participated in the All-Council Float. The Council also sold buttons and tee-shirts bearing their slogan, Eight-O-Way-To-Go! Left to Right: Larry Ng; Ginell Ristic; Joanne Ogura; Eileen Lynch, President; Karen Malhotra, Vice-President; Sheryl Yamamoto, Treasurer; Cheri Kakita, Secretary; George Di Salvo.

Jr Council Plans Prom

Junior Council, under the supervision of Mr. Larry Spence, enthusiastically began preparations for this year's Junior-Senior Prom in June of 1977. The Fund-Raising Committee helped them to reach their goal of $3500. They held various fundraisers such as rummage sales, dances, candy sales, drawings, egg drives, and bake sales. Besides planning the prom Junior Council helped promote school spirit and involvement by participating in Homecoming and other school activities. PICTURED FROM LEFT TO RIGHT: FRONT ROW: Elizabeth Fong, Treasurer; Rhonda Hernandez; Lindy Patrick; Janise Harms, Vice-President. ROW 2: Carl Jew; Corinne Calhoun; Paul Talbot, President; Denise Hammett, Secretary; and Bo Lee.

Nine Senior Leaders Lauded Los Laureadans

This year nine outstanding seniors were awarded membership in the highest senior honor society, Los Laureados. On March 20, Principal Frank Cano announced the exceptional students and presented each with a gold pin at both assemblies. These acclaimed students were chosen for this honor on the basis of leadership, citizenship, and scholarship. The recipients' names will be engraved in a permanent display of plaques placed in the Student Government Room to commemorate the Los Laureadean Society.

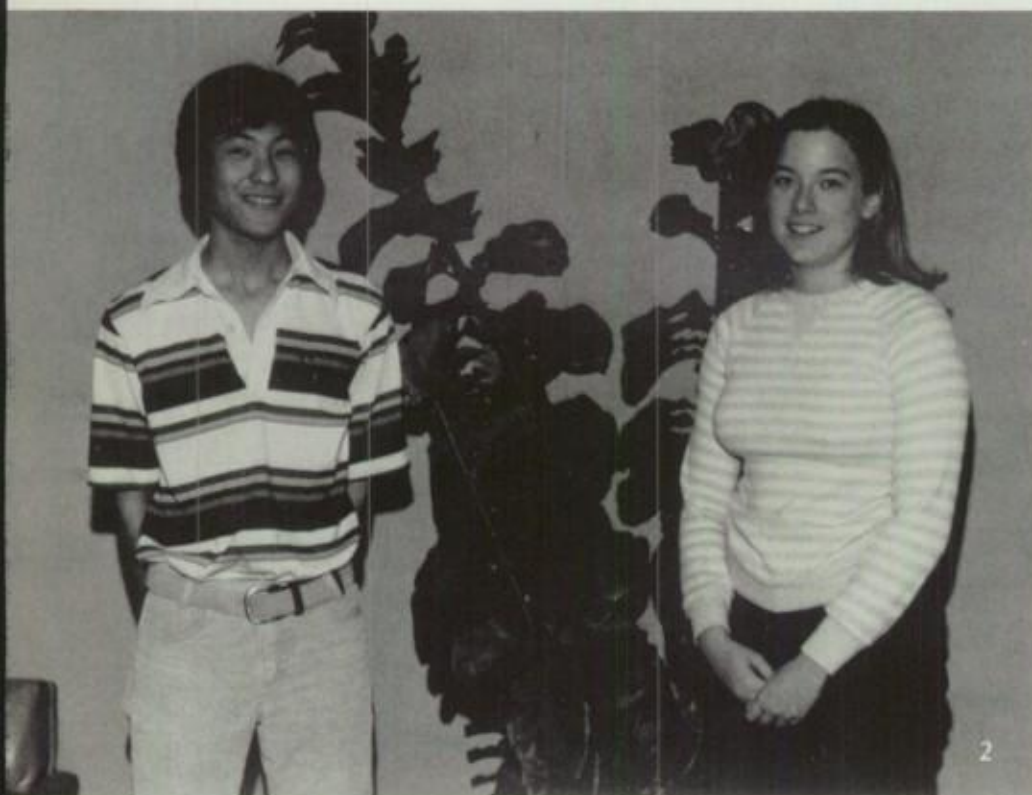

LOS LAUREADOS: 1) Lin Chang, 2) Richard Chung, 3) Karen Davis, 4) Sandra Gee, 5) Susan Hoffman, 6) Sharon Jacobson, 7) Blake Kuwahara, 8) Phyllis Mieszerski, 9) Cynthia Woo.

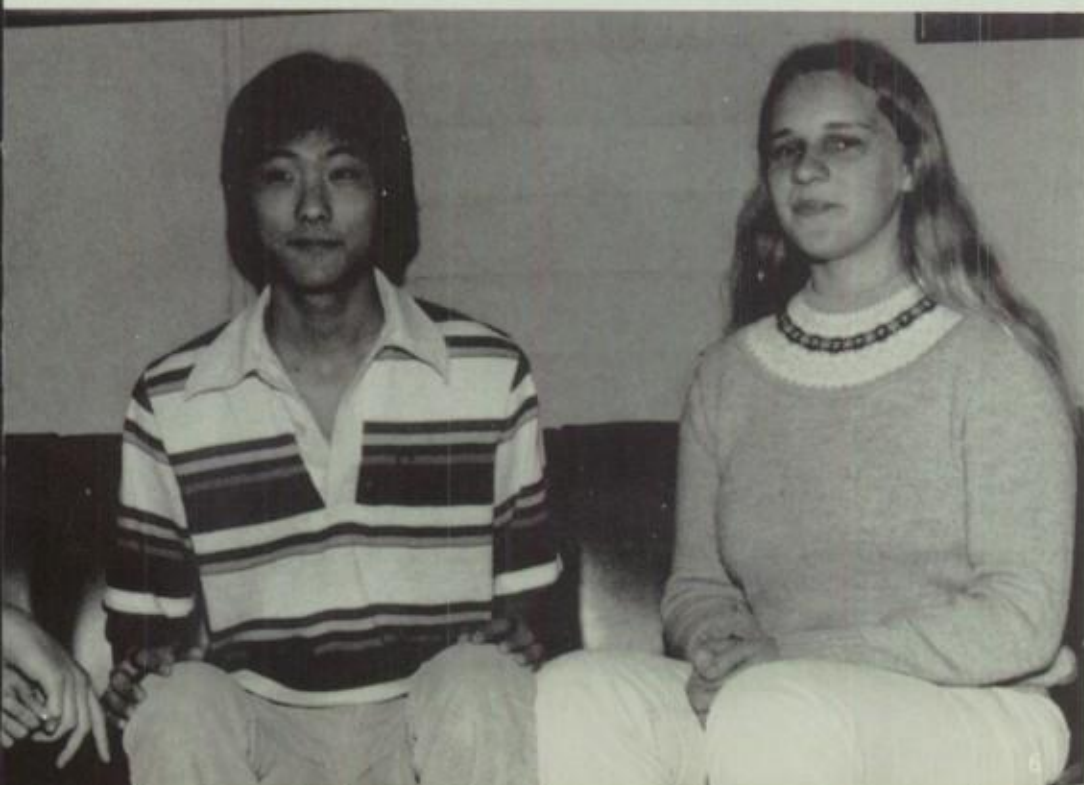

Honors Reward Prominent Seniors

This year, first semester CSF Life Membership was composed of forty students. To qualify for this honor, students must have been a member of CSF for four semesters, one being in the senior year. Two outstanding seniors, Susan Hoffman and Blake Kuwahara, were recognized by the Optimist Community Service Club, with a presentation of "Youth Appreciation" awards. The Doc Higgins Award was presented to the service club president who excelled in student leadership. The Commissioner of Clubs, along with the help of Ms. Carden and special judges, selected the recipient of this award. One senior was honored each month by the community service club Civitan, and given the title "Jr. Citizen." Each semester, one AHS senior girl was chosen as the recipient of the Girls' League Creed Award, by GL Board. The award is based on such traits as truthfulness, friendliness, and cheerfulness. Karen Davis, Blake Kuwahara, and Jean Ramirez were chosen to compete in the 1978 "Elks Most Valuable Student" competition. The three seniors were elected by the District to advance to state competition.

American Yearbook Representative
Mr. Will Loe

As the year draws to a close, we each find a time to pause and reflect on times past and look ahead to the future.
Here we must make decisions; for some,
these decisions will affect their futures.
High school may be a transition from the innocent days of youth to the realities of the adult world.
We are standing at a crossroads.
